New Steal Manufactory in Cleveland.

The Cleveland Plaindealer says: Messrs. D. K. Corlett & Brothers have purchased some of the Scranton lots on West River and Second streets, upon which they purpose to immediately erect a large establishment for the manufacture of steel springs for carriages, cars, &c. Such an establishment will be a valuable addition to the business interests of this city. The Messrs. Corlett are gentlemen of energy and large means, and well calculated to succeed in their undertaking.

Wool.

The Stark county Republican says: The Stark county Wool Growers' Association, after mature deliberation, passed the following resolutions unanimously:

Resolved, That so long as wool dealers persist in discriminating in favor of manure, tags and dirt in wool, as they have done at their convention at Cleveland, on the 23d inst., they must expect that they will be supplied with that kind of material, instead of clean, nice wool.

Resolved, That a deduction of one-half on all unwashed fleeces, is discriminating in favor of dirt, for if a fleece is half dirt, it has the advantage of one that has only one-third dirt.

Resolved, That we, as wool-growers, are determined to sell our wool upon its own merits without any deduction of weight.

Resolved, That in the Spanish Merino breed of sheep are combined all the qualities that are profitable to cultivate.

GENERAL W. W. IRWIN.—Governor Curtin has ordered Gen. W. W. Irwin, Commissary General of the State, to remain on duty, for the purpose of taking charge of the military claims of Pennsylvania against the United States, growing out of the operation of the State in furnishing her quota of troops to the national armies. General Irwin has been a reliable and competent officer in the past, and will energetically press the claims of the State upon the General Government.

MILITARY CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE.—The Board of Claims for the settlement of military claims having been dissolved, the duties of the Board are now performed by Thomas J. Nicholson, of Beaver county, under the supervision of the Adjutant General, Auditor General and State Treasurer. Mr. Nicholson is an able officer, having served as chief clerk with different State Treasurers, and is in every way qualified for the position.

THE LATE CLEVELAND RAILROAD COLLISION—VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.—The coroner's jury that investigated the late terrible railroad accident near Cleveland, particulars of which was given in the COMMERCIAL of Saturday last, have rendered the following verdict: The collision was occasioned mainly by there being ten minutes time allowed between the passage of trains, also requiring a speed of over thirty miles per hour to make schedule time between the stations, giving thereby in case of accident to one train, too little time to check the speed of the following train. We also believe from the evidence before us that there was a lack of due diligence and expedition on the part of the flagman of the Sandusky train, F. A. Rice, in signaling the Toledo train.

NEW BEDFORD WHALERS STRIKING OIL.—New Bedford Standard says: Messrs. George and Matthew Howland, we understand, have the present week settled with the officers and crew of the ships Corinthian and George Howland, the voyages amounting to the enormous sum of $500,000, the former $275,000 and the latter to $225,000. No merchants engaged in the whale fishery ever had the opportunity of settling two such voyages in a single week, and they amount to a larger sum than ever before resulted from two voyages.

OHIO NEWS ITEMS.

The Lorain county News says: Prof. Cowles of Oberlin, has nearly completed a series of commentaries on the Prophets. They have been the result of immense labor, research and Biblical learning.

A soldier whose upper jaw, right arm and right leg had been shot away in battle, was put off the night express on the Toledo road, because he had not money enough to pay his fare to Cold Water, Michigan, where he was going to find friends.

At Huntingdon there is a large dairy business. Hor's factory turns out a ton of cheese daily. Nine hundred cows supply the milk for it.

The boiler in the paper mill of Messrs. Hanna & St. Clair, of Coshocton, exploded a few days since killing one man and wounding two or three others. Their stable, containing a large amount of hay, straw, corn, &c., with four valuable horses, was burnt a few days afterwards.

A Miss Simmons, of Olive, Noble county, Ohio, on Saturday last, while riding an unmanageable horse, which ran off with her, had her skull terribly mashed, by being thrown against the timbers of a bridge.

One Chas. S. Dunlap got himself into jail, the other day, at Zanesville, for going through the country and poisoning the mouths of horses, then suddenly appearing as a "horse doctor," and offering to cure them for "so much." He ought to be made take a bit in his own mouth.

The Directors of the Morgan County Bridge Company have obtained permission to erect a bridge over the Muskingum on favorable terms. The work will commence at once.

Willie, infant son of Palmer Lowe, of Deercreek township, Pickaway county, was drowned in a well on the premises several days ago.

The Fort Wayne papers report a stormy time at the convention of the Lutheran ministers at that place, which only broke up at the close of last week. The President of the last interim of two years, in organizing the body, ruled out the Pennsylvania Synod's delegation as having no governing partnership in the General Synod. That large, learned, and wealthy body of ministers of course drew after it its hosts of friends, and the result seems to promise two General Synods, the one party claiming that the body was not legally organized and the other that it was. Behind the technicality in dispute there is likely a church difference of Old School and New.

The time for holding the commencement of Western Reserve College has been changed from the second Wednesday in July to the last Wednesday in June.

A sudden death occurred in the town of Milan, Erie county, on Tuesday morning last. Mr. Stokes, the express carrier between that place and Norwalk, fell from his chair, having risen in the morning feeling unwell, and died in a moment. The deceased was a prominent citizen and one of the early advocates of the anti-slavery cause. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

There was filed at the office of the Secretary of State on Monday, May 28th, the certificate of incorporation of the New York and Western Telegraph Company, the incorporation to hold good for forty years. The capital stock is to be $750,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The lines are to extend from the eastern to the western boundaries of Ohio, connecting with such towns as public interest demands, and connecting at the State line with other lines east and west. The principal office in the State is to be located at Cincinnati.

D. D. Belden, Esq., formerly prosecuting attorney of Trumbull county, and now a resident of Colorado, has been spending a few weeks in Warren. Mr. Belden has the superintendence of a gold mining company, at the comfortable salary of $6,000 per year—an item that would not be regarded unhealthy even in this latitude.

The Sandusky Register says: A fair amount of wool is now coming into the market. The proceedings and resolutions of the Cleveland Convention of the good sense of farmers is making a marked change in the condition of the wool this season. It comes clean and nicely put up. There is probably less of the old clip on hand than ever before. In New York some wool stores are entirely empty, and others only contain a few undesirable lots. Some choice selections are held at 70a75c. The price in this market ranges from 40a50c.

DOG SUICIDE.—An English paper gives an account of an extraordinary dog suicide by a canine belonging to Mr. George How, of Frindsbury, near the Medway river, Upnor, Chatham. The animal deliberately walked to the bank of the river, and after turning round and giving a kind of farewell howl, he walked into the stream, where he kept his head under water until he rolled over dead. This extraordinary act of suicide was witnessed by several persons. The manner of his death proved very clearly that the animal was not suffering from hydrophobia.

WASHINGTON, June 4.

Reconstruction.

The Senate resumed the Reconstruction report to-day and listened to a speech from Senator Hendricks, of Indiana, in opposition to it, after which an early adjournment was effected. An effort will be made to take a vote on it by Thursday.

Mr. Williams's Resolution.

The House cleared its calendar to-day of a number of resolutions which have been lying over since March. None of them were of much importance, and therefore elicited no debate. The yeas and nays were taken, however, on the resolution offered a week ago by Mr. Williams, of Pennsylvania, calling on the President to inform the House whether any of the military or civil employees of this Government, within the State of Georgia or any other State, have in any way countenanced or assisted in the rendition of honors to either the living or dead who waged war against the Government.

The Captured Fenians.

Sir Frederick Bruce, the British Minister, had a long interview to-day with Secretary Seward, and it is said asked that this Government might surrender to the Canadian authorities the Fenians captured by the gunboat Michigan. The request was not complied with, as it had not then been decided what course the Government would pursue in disposing of those that fell into our hands. It is regarded as most probable that they will be turned over to the civil authorities for trial for a violation of the neutrality laws.

Jeff. Davis.

Jeff. Davis's counsel have been here all day, but left to-night for Richmond. They have been urging the Government to release Davis on bail or parole him in view of the fact that the Government is not ready to proceed with the trial. The counsel have proposed to offer bail from two hundred thousand dollars to ten millions. It is not known whether the Government has expressed any views in this respect to Judge Underwood, but it is said that the attorney makes no positive objections to taking bail. The President's views, it is believed, will finally decide the matter.

The Tax Bill.

The Senate Finance Committee continue to hear delegations remonstrating against certain features of the new tax bill. The Committee think they will recommend but very few changes in it as it passed the House.

The Mexican Loan.

The House to-day, in preference to passing a resolution declaring against the endorsement of the Mexican loan, referred it to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, where the subject is now pending. The Committee have a special meeting to-morrow to dispose of it. As it now looks, a substitute to be proposed by Mr. Raymond will be adopted.

Executive Session of Senate.

The Senate had an executive session to-day but made no confirmations. The Finance Committe reported back all of the Internal Revenue nominations lately made for such disposition.

Bills Signed.

The President has just signed the following acts: An act to define more clearly the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia; an act to incorporate the Women's Hospital Association of the District of Columbia; an act to protect American citizens engaged in lumbering on the St. Croix river, and a joint resolution for the appointment of a Commissioner to examine a fresh water basin for Iron clads.

No New National Banks.

There are at present 1,650 National Banks in operation, none having been established for several weeks past. The Comptroller of the Currency invariably refuses all applications of banking institutions for conversion into National Banks, unless such applications were filed prior to the date prescribed by law, and no more will be established until the passage by Congress of an act authorizing an increased circulation.

Personal.

General Schofield has arrived here.

Call upon the President.

A committee appointed by the Democratic caucus, among whom were Senators Guthrie and Hendricks, and Representatives Randall of Pennsylvania, and Hogan of Missouri, waited on the President to-night, and were granted an interview, which proved to be a most pleasant one to the callers.

Chas. A. Dana

was examined to-day before the House Special Committee, who are investigating the frauds charged against the Provost Marshal General's Bureau.

Important Decision.

The Supreme Court of this District to-day decided that a disbursing officer of the Government could not lawfully charge a commission on his disbursements. The suit was brought by an old disbursing officer of the State Department.

THE NORTHERN FISHERIES.

The Canadian Government has decided to issue licenses to fishing vessels for fifty cents per ton, and to confer equal rights upon American fishermen.

THE TREELESS LANDS,

The House Committee on Public Lands, under lead of their chairman, Hon. G. W. Julian, seems intent upon arriving at some tangible conclusion concerning tree-planting on the woodless Western plains which is attracting such wide spread mention. They have asked for a report on this subject from the Agricultural Department, also from the Commissioners of Indian Affairs as to the character of an Indian college in Kansas, which proposes to plant 10,000 acres of experimental forest within five years.

Act passed by the Legislature Approved by Governor Curtin.

HARRISBURG, June 4.—The Supreme Court having adjourned without announcing the decision, as requested by the Governor through the Attorney General, on the Constitutionality of the act of Congress disfranchising deserters, the bill passed at the last session of the Legislature for carrying into effect the law of Congress, has this day been approved by the Governor, that immediate preparations of the records and certificates required by the act may be commenced, and time afforded for the correction of errors in the record.

Fenians Still Hope to Succeed.

BUFFALO, June 6.—All quiet on the Niagara. The arms of the captured Fenians are on board the Michigan, also their colors and those captured by them at the battle of Ridgeway, which the Canadians call Limestone Ridge. Buffalo is filled with special reporters from all parts of the country, but there is absolutely nothing transpiring at this point. The Express this morning says: While we had assuredly in this city some two or three regiments of Fenians, well armed, equipped and drilled, and while liberal detachments have been reaching here from abroad during the past week amounting to another thousand, the whole augmented army in the field only amounted to about one thousand men. Where the balance are it is difficult to understand. It is a significant fact that among the three or four thousand troops at Fort Erie yesterday, not a Catholic Irishman was to be found, and not an officer of the force was Irish.

LATER.—A gentleman just from the other side states to us positively that at the battle of Ridgeway only four of the Canadian volunteers were killed, and about twenty-five wounded, three seriously. The report in the papers that Lieut. Col. Beaumoth was killed is pure fiction, no such officer being with the force; in fact, the only officers killed or wounded on the British side, so far as known here, are Ensign McEachern killed, and Routh, of the 13th battalion, wounded: Lt. Campbell had an arm broken by a bullet; Captain J. B. Rousted, of Toronto, Queen's Own, not dangerously; Ensign Fahey, leg broken, and doing well. General Meade, and United States District Attorney Dart, will arrive at Potsdam by this noon, and will look after General Sweeney and his base of supplies. The report that Head Centre O'Day had been arrested on Canada soil is untrue, but he is not visible to the naked eye on this side. A ridiculous rumor is published by the Post, of this city, that Kingston had been captured.

The Wounded at Fort Erie—Dr. Donnelly, of Pittsburgh, on the Ground.

A special to the Chronicle says: For a number of long hours on Saturday the wounded of Fort Erie were without surgical aid of any kind, and suffered most intensely without anything to relieve their agony. Dr. Kempson, the Mayor of the town, who was absent when the skirmish took place, was the first on the ground, and was soon followed by Dr. Donnelly, a Fenian Surgeon, a former resident of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Dr. Blanchard, of Buffalo, who worked harmoniously together, rendering aid to the wounded without regard to their nation. The British soldiers being the most numerous, received the first attention. The Fenian surgeon received great praise from the Canadians and authorities of the town for his kind attention to their men. He amputated two legs and was prevented from amputating the third by the arrival of the British troops, who it is said behaved brutally to the Fenian prisoners. He obtained permission to remove his wounded to Buffalo. But before he could accomplish his object he was driven from the dock where he had had his men removed at the point of the bayonet, and the wounded men were left to suffer in that exposed place without any attention.

We learn that the American Consul was grossly insulted early yesterday morning and fired at by a British officer while standing at his own door. He demanded an apology from the authorities of Fort Erie, and unless it was properly given said that he would complain to his Government.

Gen. Sweeney's Proclamation.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A proclamation to the whole people of British America, signed by T. A. Sweeney, Major General commanding the armies of Ireland, is published here this morning. After reciting the grievances suffered by Ireland at the hands of Great Britain, it states that war is now being made to deliver Ireland from the tyrants, the despoilers and the robbers. It says that Canada is the true point of attack at present, but assures the people that war is not made upon them, but upon the Government that rules over them. It appeals to the Irishmen, Frenchmen and Americans in the Provinces to rise and aid the movement.

The Captured Fenians Demanded—Arrival of British Troops and Vessels.

NEW YORK, June 4.—It is said the British Minister has demanded the surrender from our Government of the captured Fenians. It is not probable the request will be complied with, though the Government has not yet decided.

A Montreal dispatch of last night says the Royal Mail steamer Himalaya has arrived at Quebec with the Canadian 100th or Prince of Wales regiment, together with the Forty-third regulars, direct from Malta, to meet the defence of the St. Lawrence. Two gunboats have been improvised from tugboats plying in these waters, equipped and manned by marines from Her Majesty's corvettes, the Pliades, lying at this point, and the Aurora at Quebec. These gunboats will be equipped with Armstrong guns and twelve-pounder Howitzers. They sailed to-night under sealed orders. The 7th Fusileers from Quebec, with the 4th battalion of the Rifle Brigade, the Prince Consort's Own, from this city, are on marching orders to-night. Reinforcements are now known to be on the way here from Halifax, and the steamer Belgian will bring troops from England. Hemmingford is at this moment, 12:30 A. M., the threatened point. The Canadian forces are strong there.

A special to the New York Herald, from St. Albans, Vt., June 4 says another company of United States artillery from Fort Independence arrived this morning. The United States authorities are using every effort to preserve neutrality. The Fenians are preparing for a movement.

BATTLE OF LIME STONE RIDGE.

Full Details of the Fight—The Fenians Strip Themselves and Fight Bravely—Victory and a Big Drunk, with Starvation in Prospect.

A dispatch of June 2d to the Herald says: The Fenian army, about one thousand strong, under command of Colonel O'Neill, left Frenchman's creek, the camp of the previous day, at three A. M., and moved in the direction of Ridgeway, a small village about ten miles from Waterloo ferry. As they advanced the people along the road fled precipitately into the woods, leaving their houses in a state of the greatest disorder, and taking nothing away with them.

The Fenian scouts out some distance ahead reported, at eight A. M., that there was a large force of Canadian volunteers advancing upon them. At this time the Fenians had reached a spot almost three miles from Ridgeway and eighteen from Port Colborne, on the Garrison road, at a place called the Lime Stone Ridge. On one side of the road was a fence, which the Fenians tore down, and then advanced into the field, where they formed in line of battle, Gen. John O'Neill being in command, assisted by Col. Starr and Col. O'Brien. The volunteers advanced down the road into the field, about three-quarters of a mile above the Fenians. In a few moments the action commenced, skirmishers on either side exchanging a brisk fire. The order was then given for the Fenian skirmishers to fall back. The main bodies on both sides fired several times, when the Fenians advanced at double quick with fixed bayonets. As the volunteers were ranged in the orchard on the other side of a swamp, and separated from the Fenians by a thick brush wood, Gen. O'Neill saw that continuing upon the charge while they occupied so good a position was useless, and so gave the order to fall back. The volunteers believing this a retreat, advanced out of their shelter at a run. The Fenians then returned to the charge, and the volunteers gave way, retreating in the direction of Ridgeway, the Fenians following closely in pursuit. After pursuing them for over two miles they stopped, while the volunteers went on to Port Colborne. From my presence on the field during the action I can assure you that this information is entirely reliable, other reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The loss on the Fenian side was about six killed and fifteen wounded; that of the volunteers twenty-three killed and wounded in all. The Fenians fought bravely, throwing off their coats, vests and even shirts, and fighting in this half naked state. There were very few of the Fenians in uniform. The Louisville men had blue army jackets, with green facings, and the Cleveland men green blouses and caps, the remainder being diversely clad.

After stopping the pursuit the main body of Fenians proceeded down the Garrison road back towards Fort Erie, leaving a guard over the wounded on both sides, who, with the prisoners, were stationed in the farm houses along the road.

The volunteers were fourteen hundred strong made up of the Toronto volunteers, the Queen's Own, Hamilton volunteers, and King's artillery, from Port Colborne. They reached Port Colborne by the down train. Colonel Buchanan was in command of the entire force.

The fight commenced at eight o'clock and was over by nine, but skirmishing on the part of the Fenians was kept up till ten o'clock A. M. The Fenian army was entirely out of provisions not having eaten anything since yesterday. Unless supported soon they must succumb, as the volunteers and regulars are said to be advancing on all sides.

A large number of the Fenians carried prayer books in their pockets, and in the case of one man a rifle ball pierced the book, lodging near the inner cover. Lieutenant Routh, when dying, asked permission of Colonel O'Neill to retain his sword, which was granted, and a guard was instructed to see that it was not taken from him.

A portion of the Port Robinson volunteers, about one hundred strong, under Captain King, were stationed behind the main body during the fight, as a reserve. They were ordered up but did not arrive before the main body was routed. On arriving at Fort Erie, a position was temporarily taken on board the tug steamer Thomas Robb; but in a short time they came again on shore, remaining in the neighborhood of Waterloo Ferry. The went through a number of evolutions, and seemed a well drilled body of men.

At about half-past three P. M., a small force of about thirteen Fenians was seen crossing the brow of a hill near the ferry. The volunteers immediately prepared to advance upon them, and as the Fenians retreated the task of capturing them seemed easy; but just as they reached the base of the hill about eight hundred Fenians appeared and charged precipitately down upon the volunteers, taking them completely by surprise. The volunteers broke and scattered through the woods, exchanging over one hundred shots with the Fenians.

About seventy prisoners were taken by the Fenians. A number of the volunteers retreated on board the tug, and when they got out in the stream they fired on the Fenians. All along the shore stragglers ran almost crazy in their endeavors to procure shelter. The beach was covered with guns and knapsacks thrown away in their flight. The regulars are expected at any moment, and the Fenians are preparing to give them a warm reception.

A second dispatch says: I have just returned from Fort Erie. The Fenians have encamped themselves behind the church, a short distance from the beach. During the last engagement at the Waterloo ferry, as far as I can find, but few of the Fenians were injured. The prisoners are under guard, but the wounded have been released on parole.

The Fenians, elated with their success, have drank freely, and two-thirds of them are in a state of intoxication. The women in the neighborhood are running about in the wildest terror. A number of them have implored the captains of the various tugs to take them across to the American side, and in some cases the request has been complied with. As far as I can judge, there will be no conflict before morning, as the inebriated of the Fenian army are wild from hunger and the drink they have taken.

The Invaders "Loot" a Whisky Shop—Panic Among Them, and Arms Thrown into the River.

BUFFALO, June 2, 5½ P. M.—A large body of the Fenians yesterday, while encamped at Frenchman's Creek, advanced to Freeberry's dock, near the lower ferry, and took possession of a small saloon kept by a man named Stephens. While there they used up all the provisions and drink on the premises, and relieved Stephens of about one hundred dollars in money, a horse and some wearing apparel.

At about eight P. M. one of the party who was out scouting brought in a dispatch to the Captain in command, who immediately ordered the men under arms, then giving Stephens fifty cents he ordered him to heave a number of boxes of ammunition into the river. These were fifteen boxes marked "1861." There were one thousand rounds of ammunition in each box. While Stephens was throwing the boxes in, the Fenians went down the river carrying their muskets.

Another report says that the Fenians left Frenchman's Creek at 4 A. M., and started for Ridgeway, a village about nine miles above. Before starting they burned over one thousand stand of arms and threw almost as many more into the river. A number of the latter have been fished out this morning, and there is a pile of gun-barrels at the creek.

The Movement near St. Albans—General Spear.

A Boston dispatch says: Four days since a gentleman registered his name at the Tremont House as Mr. Spear, from Philadelphia, who announces himself a brigadier general, in command of the right wing of the Fenian army. He is a graduate of West Point, commanded a regiment of cavalry during the war, is about fifty years old, and has seen thirty years' service. A number of visitors at the hotels walk with a military air, and address one another as "colonel," "captain" &c. Upwards of fourteen hundred men, it is stated, arrived at St. Albans to-day, but what has become of them is a mystery to the citizens. The dispatches from there to-night represent the village almost as quiet as it was a fortnight since.

It is stated that the people of St. Albans were somewhat surprised when the Fenians arrived in such large numbers; and they disappeared so mysteriously that they were afraid of another raid. They accordingly collected together and appointed a delegation to wait on General Spear, the commander, and ascertain the meaning of these movements. The General granted an interview, and they asked him if he thought the banks were safe. To the inquiry what all this meant, he replied that, as for himself, he was here for his health, and did not think those men would do any of them any harm, and that all was safe. He also stated that he should not be surprised if there was a still greater number came in a few hours. The men arrived in St. Albans were unarmed, but nearly all carried three days' rations, and those who were without food were supplied by the officers.

Col. Sinnott Apologizes to Gen. Sweeney.

Colonel P. A. Sinnott, who figured in the late movement at Eastport, has been appointed adjutant of a regiment which is soon to leave for the front. This gentleman has written a letter to General Sweeney, apologizing for the charges which he brought against him in saying that he did not mean fight, being now convinced the General does; and he therefore retracts the statement he made. Mr. Sinnott states that had he had a favorable wind at the time of the Eastport expedition he could have taken Digby, Nova Scotia; that as it was, his vessel lay becalmed. At that time many of the English soldiers deserted.

General Mahon in the Field.

Brigadier General John W. Mahon, commander of the Fenian forces from Massachusetts, also left here to-day, accompanied by between fifty and one hundred men. General Mahon has received a brigadier's commission from General Sweeney, and he has been designated as the commander-in-chief of all the Massachusetts forces. He has seen four years' military service in the capacity of Major of the Ninth Massachusetts regiment, and since his return has been somewhat renowned as a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives for two successive terms and as a member of the Suffolk bar.

Another Point Fearing Attack.

ST. ARMAND, June 4.—The village is filled with British volunteers. Report are current of an expected Fenian attack. A rumor that an attempt was to be made to capture a bank at Bedford, near Stanbridge Station, caused the sudden removal of the deposits therefrom last night. A camp of the Twenty-fifth Highlanders is located at St. Alexander, a short distance hence.

The Excitement Subsiding.

TORONTO, C. W., June 4.—The excitement of the Fenian invasion has rapidly subsided. There were exposed points, but all are fully prepared for any emergency and military arrangements are constantly being perfected. Traffic on the Great Western and other railways is going on with the usual regularity.

Rebel General for the Front.

MEMPHIS, June 4.—It is reported that Gen. W. H. Jackson, late of the Confederate army has accepted a Brigadiership in the Fenian army. He leaves here for the front to-morrow.

Milwaukee Regiment Moving.

MILWAUKEE, June 4.—The first regiment of Fenians start for Chicago to-morrow to join the Fenians there and proceed to the scene of action.

Fenians Still Arriving at Buffalo—A Movement Still Hinted at on that Frontier.

BUFFALO, June 4.—About fifteen cases of arms were seized by the United States authorities at the Central depot to-day. Several hundred Fenians arrived in the city this evening, and the Fenians still hint at a movement on this frontier, especially as but a small body of British troops are now at Fort Erie, most of the force there yesterday having been ordered elsewhere. Quite a number of Fenians are reported as having left Dunkirk to-day. Their destination is only a surmise.

It is understood that a writ of habeas corpus has been sued in the case of the Fenian prisoners now in custody of the authorities here, and it is hinted that officers and men are to be got off somehow, which remains to be seen.

Since the failure of their movement in this quarter is so patent, it will not be improper to state that when the movement was first begun, a member of the Fenian council stated to the agent of the Associated Press, in confidence, that Hamilton was the first point aimed at and that they expected its capture easily. This may have been as true as the statement by a party that the Fenians took over from here cannon, when the facts proved that they had none. Head Centre O'Day positively asserted to us that they had thirteen batteries in Canada. There is a rumors that one Fenian had been tried by drum head court martial and shot as a spy by the English, at Fort Erie.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Five hundred Fenians left for the east this evening via Crestline and Cleveland. A regiment is reported to have left by lake to-day. The report lacks confirmation.

Neutrality Laws to be Preserved.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., June 4.—Gen. Meade and staff are perfecting arrangements to preserve the neutrality laws. He came as far as DeKalb Junction on the same train with Gen. Sweeney and some two hundred Fenians. Gen. Meade thinks the Fenians gathered in Northern New York, means fight. Sweeney and his men left DeKalb Junction for Malone, where nearly one thousand Fenians are gathered. Three companies of regulars arrived at Ogdensburg. Twenty-eight companies of troops are now at Prescott. Two British mail steamers are kept fired up, ready to transport troops to any point. It is thought Sweeney's objective point is Beauharnais, Canada. Meade goes East to-night. There is no excitement here.

ST. ALBANS, VT., June 4.—Another company of United States artillery, from Fort Independence, arrived this morning. The United States authorities are using every effort to preserve neutrality. The Fenians are preparing for a movement.

ST. JOHNS, C. E., June 4, 10 A. M.—The town is patroled by mounted men of the British regulars. The inhabitants are entirely quiet and apparently indifferent to whether the Fenians come or not. A large number of families have left for the States apprehensive of a Fenian raid. United States Consul Moorhouse keeps the American flag flying over the Consulate.

HAMILTON, June 4.—The recent Fenian troubles have not caused the slightest interruption of the Great Western railroad, freight and passenger trains running regularly.

Fenian Mass Meetings.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—The excitement among the Fenians in this city to-day, is intense. Large amounts of money are being subscribed by the O'Mahony men as well as friends of Sweeney, to aid the cause, and rumors are current that reinforcements are being sent rapidly forward. A mass meeting of all Irishmen and their friends, will be called for to-morrow or next day. The friends of Colonel O'Neill, especially those who served with him in the Union Army in the West, and assisted in the capture of Colonel Morgan, sympathise with him in his capture. Colonel O'Neill was a gallant soldier in the Union army and not a rebel officer as has been reported.

BOSTON, June 4.—There was a Fenian meeting to-night at Front street Theatre. The attendance was slim. Stephens was present and made a brief speech. General Hoppin also spoke. The Fenians who do not acknowledge Stephens, also held a business meeting to-night.

Arms Seized by the U. S. Authorities Recaptured by the Fenians.

WATERTOWN, June 4.—The United States Marshal seized two cars containing arms and ammunition while passing through this place this afternoon for the north. This evening a party of men came from Potsdam, and taking possession of the locomotive, started towards Cape Vincent, in which direction the arms had been taken for safety, as there was no force here to protect them. They found the cars at Chaumont and are momentarily expected back to pass here on their way north.

A party of about thirty men made a raid on the store of T. D. Ely, where the arms seized on Saturday were deposited. They took them to the depot and will probably take them north with others. Gen. Meade has sent troops from Ogdensburg to intercept them.

Intense Excitement in New York—Colored Men Offer to Fight for Fenians.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Fenian excitement is intense here to-day. It is said that a number of men will leave before morning for Canada, and travel as private individuals.

It is declared at the Fenian headquarters that Col. O'Neill's defeat will not check the movement against Canada and that the main attack is yet to be made by Gen. Sweeney.

A delegation of colored men have offered their services to fight for the Fenian cause.

The Fenians declare the troops under O'Neill were betrayed. The Irish population are still sanguine of success in the provinces.

Speech of Gen. Meade.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., June 4, MIDNIGHT.—General Meade was tendered the compliment of a serenade by the citizens of this place this evening. About half-past ten o'clock an immense bon fire was lighted at the intersection of State and Fort streets, near the Seymour House. An excellent band of music was in attendance, and after a few patriotic airs, Major General Meade appeared on the steps of the hotel and addressed the large gathering of citizens as follows:

My Fellow Citizens of Ogdensburg: I appear before you in response to the very flattering compliment which you have been pleased to pay this evening by the serenade I have listened to. I regret that it is not in my power to make any extended remarks, for two reasons: First, that I have not the capacity so to do, public speaking not being my avocation, but principally that I am very actively engaged at this moment and have been ever since my arrival here. In attending to my public duties, I take this occasion, however, to return to you my sincere and grateful thanks for the very flattering compliment you have paid me. It is always very gratifying to my feelings to receive the approbation of my fellow-citizens, particularly when I know that the compliment comes from so many of the gallant men who served under me, and bravely upheld the honor and integrity of their country. [Cheers.] I have the pleasure to day of meeting many men who served in the glorious Army of the Potomac, to which I had the honor to belong. It is extremely gratifying to meet them—gallant soldiers that they were, to-day. I will not make any special mention of regiments now, for I know that all from the county of St. Lawrence proved themselves brave men and distinguished themselves in the field. I remember, however, many of the Sixtieth Regiment of the Sixth Corps, and I remember their services well and I was glad to see them to-day. (Cheers.) With these few remarks, if you will accept them, I will return to my duties, which I only left for the purpose of thanking you for the compliment you have paid me."

Gen. Meade then retired amid enthusiastic cheers.

MEMPHIS, June 4.—One hundred and fifty Fenians are awaiting marching orders here. High officials say Gen. Sweeney is in the Fenian army and leaves for the front to-morrow. Col. O'Neill, figuring in Canada, was formerly Colonel of the Eleventh Tennessee, and afterwards commanded a regiment recruited at Andersonville.

Head Centre Stephens in Philadelphia.

Highly Amusing Scenes—The Head Centre off his Balance.

On Thursday last the Philadelphia papers announced, that on that evening the great James Stephens, C. O. I. R., the lineal descendant of the man who lived in Tara's Halls, and the wearer of the mantle of Wolf Tone, Brian Boru, and Smith O'Brien, would expound the mysteries of the Brotherhood at National Hall. The hall filled up slowly as the hour of eight approached, until some five hundred persons were present. At the appointed time, Stephens, accompanied by a number of the unterrified, appeared, and was greeted with loud applause. He is a short, heavily built man, with a high forehead and bald head, with the exception of a narrow string of long red locks, brushed back behind his ears. He is by no means a handsome man, and his general physiognomy is far from prepossessing. Mr. Andrew Wynne performed the ceremony of introduction, which was the signal for a round of applause. The "Great Mogul" of the Brotherhood then commenced his oration amid profound silence. He was frequently interrupted by six females seated in the front part of the hall, waving small pocket handkerchiefs, a signal for the men to applaud. Every time the orator lifted his hand, the females, not possessing great discrimination, waved for cheers, and hence the criticism was frequently slightly out of place.

For instance he remarked, with great fury "You Fenians in America have betrayed us in Ireland." This complimentary announcement was greeted with wild applause by the betrayers. After speaking for about an hour, Mr. Stephens announced himself anxious and willing to answer any questions which might be put to him. At this point of the assemblage the fun commenced. A man in the audience arose and asked:

"Do I understand you to say that the people of Ireland are so unreasonable that they don't want England crippled at any point except on the coast of Ireland or England?"

Mr. Stephens replied:

They want England crippled, but do not want Ireland crippled: at the same time they know Ireland will be destroyed. We know at home that if any body of men go to Canada the men in Ireland will be held responsible. We cannot hold together beyond this year, and the people of Ireland would go from the country by tens of thousands if you make any diversion from the right path—Ireland."

A well known "Fenian" arose and asked:—"Whether you, James Stephens, are not a British agent employed to destroy the influence of American Irishmen in favor of their native country?"

Mr. Stephens—"You're a traitor; you're no Fenian. Gentlemen, am I to be insulted? Put him out, put him out;" and the furious Chief rushed at his interrogator, seized the questions from the gentleman's hands, and flung them on the floor. The cries of the Centre were taken up by the audience. A short-haired leader on the stage made a rush for the victim of misplaced confidence. He was seized, hurried off the platform sans hat, sans manuscript, sans senses, and deposited in a corner, where four faithful Fenians kept guard.

After the excitement had partially subsided another voice arose in the audience. "Were we fools for trusting John O'Mahony when you endorsed him?"

Mr. Stephens—"You have been tampered with, sir! You are invidious, sir! Shall the true Irishmen doubt the patriotism of their fellow-members? What you want is your native land?" and a vast supply of buncombe, which distracted the attention of the audience, silenced the unfortunate questioner, and created great enthusiasm for the patriotic chief.

Again—"Where did P. J. Meany lose his papers? How soon were they found?"

Mr. Stephens (wildly)—"I see your purpose. I scorn you. You are invidious. Go to Ireland, and ask the Irish; they will tell you, if they don't hang you, who is to be trusted. Ask them whether I have not done my duty," etc. As none of the hearers seemed inclined to do as their chief advised, he looked around triumphant.

"And now," said he, "I hope you will keep on asking me questions. I am delighted to answer. Everything must be explained, and I will appear more honorable in my course. Has any one else anything to ask?"

A voice from the audience—"What has become of the millions we have given already?"

Mr. Stephens—"You have been deceived. There was never much subscribed. When they got ten dollars at the Moffat mansion they called it a hundred, and a hundred was a thousand. You will hear the report of the Committee. I see in your eyes you are a detractor. Will the glorious green flag once more float over a nationality or not? The Irishmen have not degenerated in brains, music, or determination." [Loud cheers.]

Another question then came from the audience: "Do you know John Mitchell, and what has become of his $50,000?"

Mr. Stephens, "That is invidious. You are a traitor to the cause. How dare you mention John Mitchell's name? It is an understood thing that he is never to be referred to. He desires to be forgotten. Shall the glories of the past once more encircle the Green Isle? Shall she be free? Yes! Yes!! Yes!!!" [Loud cheers.]

A few more like questions were asked and were replied to with insinuations or abuse and an appeal to buncombe and patriotism. Then Mr. Stephens addressed the meeting. He placed his hand on his heart, bowed, smiled, and said he had satisfied their curiosity. Ireland would be free. Subscribe! subscribe! Make him dictator; all would go well; they would never learn what was done with their money. He would be their father, their friend, their chief. Amid great cheering for Stephens by one party, and for Sweeney by another, the meeting dispersed. However well he might have succeeded in deluding the ignorant masses, the leaders and all disinterested spectators were far from satisfied, and felt that Mr. Stephens was not reliable, and that the Fenian cause was dead.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

—The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad has obtained control of the Dayton and Michigan Railroad. Hereafter the through line, from Cincinnati to Toledo, will be known as the Cincinnati, Dayton and Toledo Railroad.

—The Lancaster Intelligencer says that the contractors are fast progressing with the Lancaster branch of the Reading and Columbia Railroad. The Company expect to have passenger trains running over the new road on the 4th of July. This will put the cities of Reading and Lancaster in direct communication, a source of great advantage and benefit to both towns.

—The Clarion Banner says: We are glad to learn that work on the Allegheny Valley Railroad is progressing rapidly. It will be completed to Brady's Bend this fall, thus enabling people in this region to reach Pittsburgh in from six to eight hours, which will be a great improvement over the old rate of sixteen hours.

—The Brookville Republican says: Mr. M'Minn came on with his Corps of Engineers a few days ago and is now busy locating between this place and Iowa Mills, on the route surveyed by him last summer. From present indications we feel assured that this Company will commence their road, through Brookville, at an early day.

—At a late meeting of the stockholders of the Union and Titusville Railroad, the following officers were elected: President, Mr. A. Gilbraith, of Erie; Vice-President, P. G. Stranahan, of Union Mills Directors—C. N. Smith, of Riceville, Darius Shreve, of Bloomfield, E. Copper, Joseph Sill and R. H. Frisbee, of Union Mills.

—The citizens of McConnellsville, Ohio, are much excited over the proposed construction of a railway between that place and Steubenville, the capitalists of the latter city, it is reported, proposing to raise two millions of dollars to help the road along. The editor of the Morgan Herald, in urging on the projected road, says: It would be better for the people of this county to donate one-fourth of all they are worth to have a Railroad, than to be without one. Why some one does not take hold of it and have it put through, we know not. God and nature are crying out to the people that we ought to have a railroad. We will remain an isolated country until we have one—while if we had the road there is nothing to prevent Morgan from being a number one county.

—The opening of the first division of the Warren and Franklin Railroad, between Irwineton, on the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, and Tidioute has given great impetus to oil mining operations in the vicinity of Tidioute. A large force is at work, and the second division, to West Hickory, will be finished probably this week. This is also a very important oil-producing point. The whole road to Oil City will be finished in July, and there is every reason to believe that the road will be the most profitable in the State of Pennsylvania, both in freights and passengers. It passes along the valley of the Allegheny river, and has very favorable grades and curvatures. The Chief Engineer and Superintendent of the road is N. F. Hobart, Esq., formerly of the Reading Railroad.

FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of Steamers City of London and Nova Scotia.

ADDITIONAL FAILURES IN ENGLAND

Russian and Turkish Troops Occupy Moldavia.

FRANCE INCREASING HER ARMIES.

Swiss Neutrality to be Respected.

The Political Situation Unchanged.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The steamer City of London arrived from Liverpool on the 23d and Queenstown on the 24th.

Cork papers of Thursday contain the following items: The London Express announces the suspension of Robinson, Croyton & Co., bankers, Manchester. Liabilities not large.

A telegram from Jassay announces the entry of the combined Russian and Turkish corps de armee into Moldavia on the 22d. Omar Pasha commands the Turks, and Gen. Kotzebue the Russians.

A number of the large warehouses of the London and Northwestern and Great Western railway at Manchester were burned on the morning of the 3d. Loss £100,000.

A Brussels telegram says a letter from Paris states that the French Government is raising to their full complement all regiments belonging to the army of Paris and the army of Lyons. France will have the army on a war footing in a fortnight, ready to be placed in observation on the German and Italian frontiers.

The Italian and Austrian governments have announced their intention to respect Swiss neutrality in the event of war.

Paris telegrams, of the 23d, say that the Moniteur Du Soir states that France, England and Russia do not wish to take up a position of arbitration, but solely to propose a basis of certain deliberations, and to direct the discussion of the conference to the points constituting the cause of collision. The Powers are now arranging the terms of a note intended to be sent to Vienna, Berlin, Frankfort and Florence.

The La France says the reply of Russia is still expected. When it arrives, a few days must still elapse before the dispatch of the collective letters of the Powers. A Conference may probably meet in three weeks hence, but it will be difficult to accomplish this.

Paris bourse was flat and lower. Rents, 63f 35c.

Prince Charles, of Hohenzollern, was enthusiastically received by the National Assembly of the Danubian principalities.

By the Nova Scotia.

FARTHER POINT, June 4.—The steamer Nova Scotia, from Liverpool on the 24th, via Londonderry 25th, has passed this point.

Cotton declined ½a¾d. for American on the week, and ½a¾d. for other descriptions. Sales of the week of 44,000 bales. Middling Orleans 12¾d; Middling uplands 12d. The market closing dull and weak. 5-20s 65a65½; Consols 86a86¾; Erie shares 41½a42; Illinois Central shares 75½a76. Breadstuffs nominal and provisions declining.

More failures are reported and financial affairs are gloomy.

The steamer Etna, from New York, arrived at Queenstown on the 24th ultimo. The steamer Scotia, from New York, was reported off Crook Haven at 2 P. M., on May 25th.

The European crisis and political situation is unchanged. There is nothing definite as to a Congress.

The latest Bremen papers consider an outbreak of war inevitable, even supposing a Congress is held.

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times telegraphs on the 23d that though the English, Russian and French preparations relating to the Congress have not yet been officially communicated to Count Mensdorf, the nature of them has been made known to him. It is probable the Austrian government will prove its earnest wish to avoid war by accepting an invitation to attend the convention.

Another Vienna dispatch says the Austrian Cabinet is not in principle disinclined to take part in the Congress, provided no definite programme for negotiation be laid down, but only the general endeavor to preserve peace be regarded as the object to be held in view in the conference.

LIVERPOOL, May 25, P. M.—LATEST VIA LONDONDERRY.—The political situation is unchanged. Financial affairs are exceedingly gloomy, and rumors of failures undoubted.

The London Times again assails the American radicals for their war on President Johnson, and their proposed policy towards the South, declaring that England cannot sympathize with them.

It is said that Austria was very glad to have an excuse to abandon the idea of forwarding troops to Mexico.

Mr. Bright, member of Parliament, published a very stirring letter on the subject of franchise reform in England. He declares that British laboring men and the negroes of America now stood on the same footing with regard to the right of voting, and advises the former that the future of their class, as citizens, is now in their own hands.

Foreign Commercial Intelligence.

LIVERPOOL, May 25.—The cotton broker's circular reports sales for the week at 44,000 bales, of which 1,500 were taken by speculators and 6,500 to exporters. Market to-day (Friday) dull and prices weak; sales 8,000 bales; stock in port 1,008,280 bales, of which 411,000 are American.

Manchester markets closed in consequence of the holidays—the Queen's birthday. Breadstuffs dull and nominal. Provisions still declining. Consols 86¾; 5-20s 65a65½; Erie, 41½a42; Illinois Central, 75½a76.

The bullion in the bank decreased 153,000 pounds.

The Trial of Jeff. Davis—Public Lands—The Public Debt—Mexican Affairs—Spanish Fleet Ordered from Chilian Waters—Cholera Cases at Quarantine—Reported Death of Admiral Nunez, &c.

NEW YORK, June 4.

THE TRIAL OF JEFF. DAVIS.

Charles O'Conner had an interview with the President concerning the trial of Jeff. Davis. He says they are ready to proceed with the trial, and if Government is not ready, they will ask the release of Davis on parole, with such security as Government may ask. They offer bail from one hundred thousand dollars to ten millions.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Eleven thousand eight hundred and eighty-two acres of land were taken up in the Iowa Land offices in April, for actual homestead settlement. The cash sales amounted to three thousand two hundred and sixty dollars.

GUERRILLA ELECTED TO OFFICE.

White, late from Mosby's guerrillas, has been elected Mayor of Leesburg, Virginia. He was pardoned several months ago.

THE INVASION OF CANADA.

Specials to the evening papers say the Government considers the invasion of Canada substantially at an end.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

A Washington dispatch says: The statemen of the public debt for May will show a large decrease in the principal and in coin and currency on hand.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

The Estafette, not a very reliable authority, says a letter from one of Juarez's Ministers, dated in the latter part of last month, at Pass Del Norte and Messilina and informing the Juarez leaders and other liberals, that Juarez, at a council of his Ministers, had determined to transfer the direction of affairs to Gen. Santa Anna, who would undertake the political restoration of the country.

SPANISH FLEET ORDERED FROM CHILIAN WATERS.

The Courier des Etats Unis learns that Admiral Nunez, of the Spanish fleet, has been ordered by his Government to forthwith leave the waters of Peru and Chili. The reason of this sudden recall is winter now existing in the South Pacific, which exposes these ships to the peril of tempests. Part of the squadron is to winter in the Philippines, and the other at Rio Janeiro or Montevideo. Next season, it is added, the new iron clad Teuton and other vessels will be added to the attacking fleet, when the Spanish Government will settle its quarrels with Peru, Chili and Equador.

JEFF. DAVIS.

The Tribune to-day, speaking of Jeff. Davis, uses the following language: "If Mr. Davis is to be tried as it seems to us he ought to be, we can see no reason for deferring his trial. If he has been unjustly proclaimed an assassin, he should somehow be released from the blasting inculpation, and if he is not to be tried but is merely held until public sentiment will admit of his liberation, we protest against the policy as unworthy. The people of this country are not children. Even if the object of his imprisonment were to render him the sole idol of the late rebels, making them forget all his faults in their sympathy for his condition, it has already been fully achieved. Let us have an end of shams. Either try him or let him go."

CHOLERA AT QUARANTINE.

The report from quarantine to-day shows five new cases of cholera and ten deaths. Four patients have been returned to the Peruvian, and eighty-eight cases are now in the hospital ship. The report about the occupation of Coney Island for quarantine grounds proves untrue. An injunction has been granted against the Board of Health occupying any part of the island for that purpose.

THE EXCISE LAW.

The opponents of the excise law held a large meeting in Union square this afternoon. The attendance was large and much enthusiasm prevailed. Speeches were made from three stands, denouncing the law as unjust and oppressive in the extreme.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH SCHEME

THE RECONSTRUCTION QUESTION

Bill Regulating Tenure of Offices.

WASHINGTON, June 4.

SENATE.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the Postmaster General in response to a resolution adopted some months ago calling for information as to the cost, practicability, etc., of establishing a national system of telegraphing in connection with the Postoffice Department. Referred to the Special Committee on the subject of a national telegraph system.

Mr. HENDRICKS, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a resolution to restore Lieutenant Commander Richard M. Law, of the New York Navy, to the active list, which was passed.

At one o'clock the reconstruction resolution was taken up.

The question was upon the adoption of the following amendment:

SEC. 4. The obligations of the United States incurred in suppressing insurrection, or in defense of the Union, or for payment of bounties or pensions incident thereto, shall remain inviolate.

Mr. HENDRICKS took the floor and delivered a speech against the pending proposition. He commenced with a review of the proceedings by which the measure was agreed upon in the Senate, characterizing it as most extraordinary and unusual. He did not believe that the people would endorse any such proceedings. They would demand to know why such a proposition was adopted and presented to them for ratification. He did not believe that the present was the proper time for amending the Constitution, eleven States being denied representation in Congress. The second section he said was unjust to the South and West. If it was proposed to change the basis of representation in the House, why not change it in the Senate also? This was prohibited by the Constitution, but the power that made could unmake. It was manifestly unjust to the Northwest that the six New England States had equal power in the Senate with the six great States of the West. The third section was penal and contrary to a course dictated by wisdom or by magnanimity to a fallen foe. The fourth and fifth sections were unnecessary, as the national debt would never be repudiated, and the rebel debt would never be paid. He characterized the whole measure not a necessity of the government, but merely a part of a political programme.

At the close of Mr. HENDRICKS' remarks the pending amendment was adopted.

Certain verbal amendments to the fifth section were then agreed to.

Mr. VAN WINKLE submitted an amendment, as a new section, that every person mentioned or described in section three of this article, who shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, and against whom no prosecution for treason has been instituted within a year, shall at the expiration of that time, upon taking an oath to support the constitution of the United States, be exempted from all pains, penalties and liabilities for such participation in the rebellion.

Mr. DAVIS demanded the yeas and nays upon this amendment, with the following result:

Yeas—Messrs. Cowan, Davis, Doolittle, Guthrie, Hendricks, Riddle, Van Winkle, and Willey—8.

Nays—Messrs. Chandler, Clark, Conness, Cragin, Edmunds, Fessenden, Foster, Grimes, Harris, Henderson, Howard, Howe, Kirkwood, Lane of Indiana, Morgan, Nye, Poland, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Sherman, Stewart, Sumner, Wade, Williams, Wilson and Yates—26.

So the amendment was disagreed to.

Mr. HENDERSON offered the following: to strike out of section 2 of the proposed amendment, the following: "but whenever, in any State, the elective franchise shall be denied to any portion of its male inhabitants, being citizens of the United States, not less than 21 years of age, or in any way abridged, except for participation in the rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation in such State shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of such male citizens, not less than 21 years of age in such State," and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Excluding also two-fifths of such persons as have been discharged from involuntary servitude by any proclamation of the President of the United States, or by amendment to the Constitution of the United States since the year 1861, and to whom the elective franchise may be denied." This was disagreed to.

Mr. DOOLITTLE offered the following as a substitute for the second section: After the census to be taken in the year 1870, and each succeeding census, representatives shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union according to the number in each State of male electors over twenty-one years of age, qualified by the laws thereof to choose members of the most numerous branch of its legislature, and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States according to the value of the real and personal taxable property situated in each State, not belonging to the State or to the United States.

Mr. DOOLITTLE explained the effect of such an amendment as he proposed, upon the representation of the different States, reading a table recently published in the newspapers on this subject.

Mr. POLAND took the floor to address the Senate at length on the pending proposition, but gave way to Mr. Doolittle, who at three o'clock moved an executive session, which was held, and the Senate soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Under call of States for bills, Mr. Patterson introduced a bill to amend an act to enable guardians and committees of lunatics in the several States to act in the District of Columbia. It was read twice and referred to the Committee for the District.

Mr. JENCKS introduced a bill to alter places of holding Circuit Courts of the United States for Rhode Island District and amendatory of the act to establish Judicial Courts of the United States which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. WRIGHT introduced a joint resolution relative to a fresh water basin for iron clads, at Tappan bay, on the Hudson river, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Ohio, introduced a bill to provide a temporary government for the Territory of Lincoln, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. FARNSWORTH introduced a bill to amend the practice of United States Courts, which was read twice and referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. PRICE introduced a bill regulating the tenure of certain offices, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Judiciary. It provides that all civil officers who hold their offices by appointment from the President, or any of the Heads of Departments, shall hold their offices for four years from the date of their appointment and shall not be subject to removal during their term of office, except for malfeasance, and in all cases where the advice and consent of the Senate is necessary to appoint the same, advice and consent shall be necessary before any removal shall be effected; provided, that this shall not apply to those holding positions merely as clerks.

Mr. HITCHCOCK, of Nebraska, introduced a bill to provide for the geological survey of the territory of Nebraska, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Public Lands; also a bill to provide for the erection at Nebraska City of buildings for postoffice and internal revenue office and for holding United States Courts, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BURLEIGH, of Dakotah, offered a resolution which was adopted, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information as to the amount paid to Indian tribes for various purposes.

The preamble and resolution offered by Mr. WILLIAMS, of Pennsylvania, on Monday last and then objection having been made, went over under the rules, come up next in order as follows:

WHEREAS, It has been publicly declared by the Supreme Executive authority of this nation, in accordance with the dictates of sound wisdom, just instincts of humanity, and undoubted sentiment of the people of the loyal States, that treason should be made odious, and traitors not only disgraced but impoverished; and whereas, it is represented that while no traitor who has survived the chances of the battlefield, and escaped retribution due to his crimes at the hands of the loyal soldiers of the North, has been otherwise punished, than by the award of public honors, or remission of disabilities to qualify him for enjoyment thereof; and whereas, the memories of the trusted dead have been hallowed and consecrated by local public entertainments, treasonable utterances in honor of their crimes which have not only been tolerated by the national authorities, but in some instances approved by closing the public offices on the occasion of floral processions to their graves, while the privilege of paying like honors to the martyred dead of the army of the Union, who perished in the holy work of punishing the treason of those who are thus honored and restoring the Union of our fathers, has been denied to the loyal people of those communities by the local authorities, with the connivance or consent of the military or civil agents of the Government; and whereas the encouragement or toleration of such enormities, is of pernicious and dangerous example, insulting to the living soldiers of the Republic as well as to the memories of the dead, and calculated to make loyalty odious and treason honorable, and to obstruct, if not entirely prevent the growth of such a feeling as is essential to any cordial or permanent reunion of States; therefore,

Resolved, That the President be requested to inform this House whether the military or civil employees of this Government within the State of Georgia or any of the other rebel States, have in any way countenanced or assisted the rendition of public honors to any of the traitors, either living or dead, who has been waging a paricidal war against the Government in commemoration of their great crime, either by closing their offices on such occasions, or making other favorable public demonstrations in connection therewith; and further, whether the privilege of doing like honors to loyalty at the graves of the Union soldiers who have perished far from their homes and kindred, has been in any instance obstructed or denied by the rebel authorities with the concurrence or acquiescence of the officers of this Government. Laid over for one day, under the rule.

Mr. ELDRIDGE asked Mr. Williams to specify precisely what he would have done in order to have made treason odious in his estimation.

Mr. WILLIAMS replied that he would punish it.

Mr. ELDRIDGE expressed a wish that Mr. Williams would amend his resolution, so as to specify what he would have done.

Mr. WILLIAMS said he would have done precisely what he presumed Mr. Eldridge would not have.

Mr. ELDRIDGE inquired what that was, but he received no direct reply.

Mr. WILLIAMS remarked that the preamble was a mere recital of facts taken from a loyal paper in Augusta, Ga. He moved the previous question.

Mr. RAYMOND suggested that some debate should be allowed so that the House might know on what evidence the statement rested. He was entirely ignorant of the facts on which he could base his vote for either the preamble or resolution.

Mr. WILLIAMS declined to withdraw the previous questions as it was not a question of evidence, but of representation. The statement in the preamble was taken from a newspaper published in the city of Augusta under the denomination of "The Loyal Georgian."

After some further running discussion the previous question was seconded, and the resolution was adopted without a division. The preamble was agreed to by yeas 73, nays 39.

The resolution offered by Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, on Monday last, and to which objection having been made, went over under the rule, came up next in order, as follows:

"Resolved, That the Secretary of War be directed immediately to furnish the House of Representatives a schedule of all the railroad property which was in the possession of the Government on May 1st, 1865; whether held by right of capture or by purchases, and if by purchases, stating the cost; also what disposition has been made of such property, if sold, whether for cash, and if for cash, under what law or authority, and whether the purchase money has been paid, or what steps have been taken to recover it.

The resolution was adopted.

The resolution offered by Mr. Wilson of Iowa, last Monday came up next in order inquiring of the Secretary of the Treasury how much gold has been sold since the first of January 1866 the date, amount, by whom sold compensation allowed, and premium received; also whether gold has been bought, and if so, the amount of such purchase and the amount if premium paid, and who acted as agent in such purchases; also whether any bonds have been bought or sold for the Treasury since that date. The resolution was adopted.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH LINES.

Postmaster General Dennison Reports Adversely to the Scheme.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Postmaster General to-day transmitted to the Senate a reply to a resolution of that body relating to the establishment of a telegraph in connection with the postal system. He submits the replies to interrogatories mady by himself from experts in telegraphy, containing much valuable information as to the cost of constructing and operating lines, &c. The mails, says the Postmaster General, are now transported by rail 32,112 miles to which will be added on the completion of the Pacific railroad, say 2,000 miles making in all 34,112 miles of railway service. Estimating two thirds of this distance as covered by the principal mail routes within the meaning of the Senate resolution, the telegraph would be required for 22,931 miles, costing for the construction of a single wire line at $150 per mile, $3,411,150. But as a three wire line will not be above the average of the facilities required on the principal mail routes to accomplish any practical purpose in aid of the Postoffice Department. It is safe to estimate the construction upon that basis, rather than upon a single wire, which will increase the cost to $6,822,300. The cost of a six wire line he estimates at $380 per mile with one hundred and thirty poles to the mile, and no allowance of extra expenses for running through cities, nor for submarine cables. The annual cost of maintaining lines, salaries, repairs, &c., included, he estimates at ten per cent. on the cost of construction, and the depreciation of all kinds at eight per cent. per annum.

In conclusion he says: "I do not submit the estimate of receipts, gross or net, which will depend so largely on the manner in which the system will be managed to secure or lose the public confidence, and be so much affected by the character and extent of the compensation of private organizations that I would regard any estimate too uncertain to be relied upon. As the result of my investigations and the resolution of the Senate, I am of the opinion that it will not be wise for the Government to inaugurate the proposed system of telegraphy as a part of the postal service, not only because of its doubtful financial success, but also its questionable feasibility under our political system."

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Ship Struck by Lightning—Troops Coming Home—Disasters by the Crevasses.

NEW ORLEANS, June 4.—The ship Artesian, loading for Boston with 2,000 bales of cotton, was struck by lighting. Her cargo was partially destroyed by fire, and the vessel sunk. The value of the cargo was $400,000.

The bark Woodward from Liverpool to Galveston bulged in twelve feet water near Galveston. The vessel will be got off and the cargo saved in good condition.

Cotton nominal; sales 200 bales low middling at 33a35c. To-day's receipts have been 1 335 bales. Sterling 56; New York exchange ¾ premium. Freights unchanged.

The Eighteenth New York Cavalry arrived from Texas, homeward bound. Most of the troops left are coming home. Heavy rains have made new crevasses. A ship was driven ashore outside by the storm.

The details of the overflow of Alexandria are heart-rending. The people were driven to rafts for protection, and an immense amount of property was destroyed. No relief is possible till the floods subside. The floods in Texas overflowed and devastated all the bottoms, and the injury to the crop is extensive. The crevasse below is stopped.

River and Weather at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, June 4.—River rising with four feet nine inches in the canal. Weather warm and showery, with thunder and lightning.

GEN. BUTLER.—Alluding to the announcement of the Newburyport Herald that General Butler may be the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifth District, the Lowell Courier says: Gen. Butler resides in the Seventh District; his barn is in the Sixth, and it seems he is a talked-of-candidate for Congress in the Fifth.

CITY MATTERS.

THE SOLDIERS' CONVENTION.

Arrival of Delegates—A Large Gathering Anticipated.

From present appearances, the Soldiers' Convention, which will assemble at the Academy of Music this morning, at ten o'clock, will be a large and imposing gathering, as the members will comprise delegates from nearly every county in the State. Yesterday afternoon, the delegations from Philadelphia and Montgomery counties arrived, and were met at the depot by Major General Negley and Captain Bann, who conducted them to their hotels. Late in the evening the Washington and Fayette county delegates arrived. It was expected that the delegates from Lancaster, Cumberland, Dauphin, Blair and other counties would arrive during the night. Major Generals Geary and Hartranft will also arrive this morning.

The Committees appointed by the late soldiers' meeting, to make the necessary arrangements for the Convention, met in the Firemen's Association Room last night. The Committees reported that they had attended to the duties of their appointments, and that all the arrangements had been completed. The insignia adopted by the Allegheny county delegation is three ribbons—red, white and blue—attached to the lappel of the coat. Gen. Pearson proposed that the Dress Circle of the Academy of Music be set apart for the accommodation of ladies desiring to be present at the Convention, which was adopted. A resolution inviting the veterans of the war of 1812, and also the Mexican war, to seats on the floor, was also adopted.

The Committee decided that the Allegheny county delegation would meet in front of City Hall at eight o'clock this morning, and after forming in procession, proceed to the various headquarters of the delegates and escort them to the Academy of Music. The hall will be handsomely decorated with flags and banners, and the marks of the various corps of the armies will be displayed upon the walls. Maj. General Negley will act as temporary chairman of the Convention.

Gen. Joshua T. Jones, a member of the Philadelphia delegation, received a communication from the War Department, on Saturday, announcing that the Department had reason to believe a number of soldiers under his command were about to leave for Pittsburgh, on their way to Canada to aid the Fenians, and stating that he would be held personally responsible for their conduct. Fortunately for all parties concerned, the expedition to this city is not of a warlike character.

Meeting of the Sanitary Committee.

A meeting of the Sanitary Committee was held in the Select Council chamber last evening. Present, Messrs. Barclay, Boggs, Coursin, Ford, Seibert, Leow, Simpson, Mawhinney, Wilson, Morrow, Ogden, Torley, Weldon and President Gallaher.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The reports from the Sanitary police were read, showing that the committee had accomplished much good, and that the citizens had generally complied with the request of the Sanitary Committee in furthering the work. The reports were accepted.

Mr. Coursin stated that the committee had great trouble in getting a quorum present at the meetings, and therefore offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That hereafter six members of this Committee shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of transacting business.

The same gentleman also offered the following resolution, which after considerable discussion, was adopted:

Resolved, That this Committee recommend Councils to appropriate five hundred dollars for the use of the Board of Health.

Mr. Torley moved that the Chairman of the Sub-Committee of the the Sanitary Committee be authorised to draw orders on the Controller for the payment of the Sanitary Police. Adopted.

A resolution was adopted that the Sub-Committee be instructed to have the messengers or Sanitary Police report to them all cases of nuisances, instead of the Board of Health as formerly.

On motion adjourned, to meet at the call of the President.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday morning, a horse attached to a wagon containing a German and his wife took fright while crossing the railroad track on Anderson street, in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, and ran down the street at a rapid gait. The woman was thrown out of the wagon, striking her head and shoulders on the boulders, injuring her severely. The man had his hands twisted around the reins, and the horse dragged him for some distance, when it was caught by a gentleman. He was considerably bruised.

THE LICENSE COURT.—Judges Sterrett, Stowe and Brown were engaged yesterday afternoon in examining the applications which were presented last week for the privilege of retailing malt and spirituous liquors. It is their intention to subject all applications to a critical examination before passing judgment upon them. The investigation will be concluded about the middle of the week, when the applicants will be apprized of their fate.

INSPECTORS APPOINTED.—The Supreme Court have appointed Messrs. George R. White and Robert H. Davis Inspectors of the Western Penitentiary, vice Hon. Walter H. Lowrie and Captain John Birmingham, resigned. Messrs. James B. Lyon, James Marshall, and Theodore H. Nevin, have been appointed Inspectors of the same institution by the Judges of the County Courts.

PERSONAL.—Colonel W. L. Foulk, formerly publisher of the Journal of this city, late of the 46th Pennsylvania Volunteers, and now a merchant in Philadelphia, is in attendance at the Soldiers' Convention. Colonel Foulk has the same energetic, industrious habits as of yore, and will return to his business in Philadelphia on the four o'clock train.

AMERICAN INSTITUTION OF HOMŒPATHY.—The annual meeting of this organization will be held in this city during the present week. Professor Wm. Tod Helmuth, M. D., of St. Louis, will deliver the annual address to-morrow evening in Masonic Hall. The State Society will meet this morning at ten o'clock, at the Hospital and Dispensary Building, 116 Second street.

LARGE RECEIPTS OF OIL.—The receipts of crude oil at Pittsburgh, by the Allegheny river, for the last forty-eight hours, exceed 50,000 barrels. These are the largest receipts of any similar time since oil became an article of commerce.

THE FENIAN REGIMENT.—Ninety Fenians left this city yesterday morning at five o'clock, to join the Pittsburgh regiment, which is now at the "seat of war." The regiment now numbers four hundred and forty men.

AN OLD FIRM DISSOLVED.—We understand that the old firm of Robb & MacConnell, in the practice of the law, which has been in existance for more than a quarter of a century, was dissolved by mutual consent on the first inst.

Police Items.

BEFORE ALDERMAN STRAIN.—William Baker was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing eighty-five dollars from Scott Hughbanks. The parties are colored servants at the Union Depot Hotel. He gave $500 bail for a hearing. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Charles Fisher, charged with surety of the peace on oath of James Martin. James Reddy charged John Tuey with larceny as bailee. Tuey is the proprietor of a boarding house in the Fifth ward, and Reddy states that he left clothing and other articles there, to the amount of $145 for safe keeping. They refused to deliver the goods up when asked to do so. A warrant was issued. Teddy McCarthy was charged with having committed an assault and battery upon the person of Jacob Byseley. The affair took place on Chatham street. He entered $500 bail for trial. James Johnston made oath charging Patrick Carr with larceny as bailee. Johnston is a contractor, doing business on Washington street, and alleges that he deposited in the hands of Carr, who was employed by him, a sum of money to be given to James Hastings, another employee. Carr failed to deliver the money to Hastings, but converted the same to his own use. A warrant for his arrest was issued.

BEFORE ALDERMAN DONALDSON.—J. M. Williams lodged an information yesterday charging William Smith with larceny. Williams is employed as a hand on the towboat Avalanche, lying on the Allegheny river, and states that on Saturday night, while standing on the boat, he saw Smith attempting to get off the boat, with a clock under his arm and wearing a vest and pair of pants belonging to the prosecutor. Williams "collared" him, but Smith denied the theft, stating that another person had stolen the articles, and he had taken them from him, and was bringing them back to the proper owner. Williams, however, didn't believe him, and proceeded before Alderman Donaldson and made the information as stated. Smith was arrested and after a hearing was committed to jail in default of bail to answer.

BEFORE ALDERMAN MORROW.—James K Lee was before Alderman E. S. Morrow, of the Eighth ward, yesterday, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife Catharine A. Lee. He was committed for trial. David Gates charged Michael Dunn, Patrick Dunn and J. H. Kelly with larceny. Gates is a hostler at a stable on Marion street, and alleges that the accused stole out of the stable a pair of pants belonging to him. Warrants for their arrest were issued.

BEFORE ALDERMAN HUMBERT—Jas. McClarran alias Dougherty, was before this magistrate yesterday, on a charge of larceny. It appears that during the confusion at the late fire on Wood street, McClarran stole a very valuable gun, the property of A. R. Reed. He managed to escape arrest until yesterday, when he was captured by officer Pender. He was committed for trial.

BEFORE JUSTICE LIPPERT.—Jane Englow made an information before Justice Lippert, of Pitt township, on Saturday, charging Ellen Trovill with assault and battery, alleging that she struck her with a piece of rope. A warrant was issued. Mary Waters charged Bridget McCabe with the same offense. The case was settled by the defendant paying the costs. David Jones was charged with having beaten his wife, Jane Jones. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Court of Common Pleas.

The June term of the Court of Common Pleas commenced yesterday morning, Judge E. H. Stowe on the bench.

There were sixty jurors summoned, thirty-seven of whom answered.

The counsel for the plaintiff in the case of Canfield & Poor vs. Jake Hill et. al., made a motion for a new trial, and filed reasons therefor.

The first case called up was that of Parker Hurds and Martha J., his wife, vs. the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company. It appears that on the 5th of October last a number of drunken men entered a passenger car in which Mrs. Hurds had taken passage, on the line of the defendants' railway. They commenced smashing the windows and seats, and during the riot Mrs. Hurds had her arm broken by the rowdies. She therefore brings suit to recover damages, laying them at two thousand dollars. The trial of the case had not concluded up to the hour of adjournment of Court.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Heller's unrivalled musical and magical performances continue to draw crowded houses. We can say but little about the illusions, not knowing exactly how to explain the more difficult ones, but in the musical part, our senses are delightfully convinced of the excellence of the performance. The pieces on the programme last night were beautiful; "Somnambula," "Storm and Sunshine" and a charming medley—the two latter being compositions of Mr. Heller. The execution was brilliant. The player and his noble instrument are well mated, and together prove the worthiness of each for the other. As for the "Anthropoglossus," what shall we say? It is everything wonderful, and yet it is nothing. To use one of Mr. Heller's own jokes, if you want to see the greatest of all contradictions—a dead head that pays, go look at the "Anthropoglossus." It is a head and shoulders above all the other illusions shown by Mr. Heller. It speaks, smokes and drinks for two nights more.

THEATRE—A crowded and fashionable audience was present last evening to witness the first performance of the "Seven Sisters," which was given in admirable style. The acting of Ettie Henderson, Mr. McDonough and their able supporters, was excellent, while the beautiful scenic effects of the play were delightfully presented. The play is announted for performance this evening, and so well was it received last night it will doubtless hold the boards for the remainder of the week. It is a spectacular play well worth seeing.

RESIGNED.—Samuel Ludwig, constable of Plum township, yesterday presented his resignation to the Court of Quarter Sessions, which was accepted.

THE GREAT NATIONAL ROUTE.

On Thursday last, the House of Representatives, by a vote of nearly two to one, affirmed the principle, that for postal and military purposes Congress has the right to confer authority for the construction of railroads in the States. The vote was on the Connellsville and Pittsburgh and the Cleveland and Mahoning bills, whereby a great National route from the capital to the Northwest will be opened. It has been well remarked that this has been brought about by the restrictive and unwise policy of the State of Pennsylvania, dictated and enforced by the Monopoly.

Another bill to regulate commercial interests between the several States has passed both houses, though we believe an amendment inserted by the Senate is yet to be acted upon by the House. So that so far as Congress is concerned the principle has been settled. In his message, the President took ground in favor of the principle of facilitating communication between the States, and his approval of bills designed to give effect to the suggestion is confidently counted on.

NORTHWARD FILLIBUSTERING.

Fillibustering movements have heretofore originated in the South and taken a southerly direction. The voice of the North has been always promptly raised against them, as a wrong to nations with which we were at peace, and as involving ultimate designs that were unfavorable to our own domestic political relations. At the present time, Fillibustering movements are emanating from the North, and flowing over our Northern borders upon our Canadian neighbors. Their immediate design is avowed, but their ultimate consequences on our own domestic condition may be, to the great majority of our people, a subject of as deep interest, and worthy of as serious consideration, as that avowed design. It is evident that the matter is so understood by our Government, and it is directing its measures accordingly.

The Fenian organization and its movements have heretofore attracted attention from the general population, only to excite the smile of ridicule at its pretensions and plans. But they have now assumed so serious a character as to demand more effective treatment. A hostile military invasion of a peaceful neighboring country has been effected, in violation of our own laws, and in opposition to the recognized principles of honor among nations. The defenders of their soil and their homes have been shot down by the invaders. Positions on that soil have been taken and fortified, indicating a purpose to make the invasion a possession of the land, a subversion of its lawful government, and a subjugation of its people to a national power that has as yet no existence. This fillibustering movement is begun under circumstances that indicate the intention of exacting the current expenses of it from the people of Canada. Whatever may be its issue, it is necessarily a predatory incursion from the outset. Entering without money or supplies, the fillibustering invaders must be dependent on the country for their subsistence, and how it would be secured, it needs no stretch of imagination to conceive.

Although we speak of these movements as serious, it is more in view of their possible consequences, than of their bearing on their main design. That they evince an utter disregard of the honor and interest of the people of this country and of its laws, is palpable in the face of them. Their clandestine character is demonstrative of their conscious contempt of public law and national honor. That their manifest tendency is to involve our nation in war with a foreign nation, no one can fail to perceive. And all the expense of blood and treasure, all the death and sorrow and taxation, all the private embarrassment and augmentation of public debt would be imposed on the people of this country by the agency of a secret organization and for the benefit of the people of Ireland whose participation in it would after all be more than doubtful and not half of whom at this moment desire it.

If, therefore, we make no account of the wrong of it, or of the suffering it may wantonly inflict on peaceful people in Canada, every good citizen of the United States has ample ground for condemning and opposing in every lawful way this fillibustering enterprise, as an insult to our Government and an attempt to impose on our people the horrors and burdens of a war. If our Government and people desire, contrary to hereditary sentiment and usage, to become entangled in the domestic politics of European nations, there are more creditable avenues into the arena open for our entrance. If we desire especially a war with England, we need not make an occasion out of an undivided and dubious section of Ireland. The armed propagandism of republican government has not been our policy as a nation hitherto. And if we are now disposed, in the face of our avowed policy and in view of the old disastrous French experiments in that line, to inaugurate the business, the American people are surely entitled to choose their own field, time and way of making the effort. And, finally, if our Government and nation wish to possess Canada, and annex it to the Union, the attainment is within the scope of their power, if the question of right be put aside, and the people of that country would be much more likely to accede to such a measure than to submit their political relations and destiny to the decision of an unrecognized private association of strangers and foreigners. But none of these suppositions is true. Our nation desires not to be entangled in the domestic politics of foreign countries, it does not wish for war with England nor with any other power, it sees the absurdity of forcing republicanism on people by the bayonet, it turns no covetous eye on its northern neighbor. And consequently our Government justly resents this clandestine movement as an indignity to its own honor, and suppresses it as a danger to the interests of its own people. It is justly deemed as great an insult to the American Government as to that of Britain, and unless wisely restrained may prove a greater injury to the American people than to any other.

THE IMPENDING WAR IN EUROPE.

Our latest foreign advices, published yesterday, state that the universal feeling in Europe was that a peaceful solution of the German difficulty was hopeless, notwithstanding the fact that a Congress of Nations was arranged to attempt a settlement. In this condition of things, a view of the immense armies about to be brought together, and the resources of the nations, may be interesting and instructive. Recent news from Europe stated that the Austrian army would soon number nine hundred thousand men, some two hundred thousand greater than the estimated war strength of the nation. This is not an improbable army for an empire of thirty-five millions, when we consider that the loyal United States, during the late rebellion, raised an army of nearly a million and a quarter of men, in a population of twenty-five millions. The armies of Italy and Prussia combined are unequal to this array, and France will be called upon for a very large force in order that the allies may overmatch Austria. If Austria should withstand the shock of these combined armies, she will rank as a power with Russia, with which the allied strength of England and France was sorely tried. Austria has not been slow to avail herself of all the modern improvements in warfare, and in addition to the formidable number, discipline and effectiveness of her troops, she will be abundantly provided with all the most improved engines and machinery of war. She is not much of a naval power, and will consequently confine her operations to her military strength.

The question which excites the greatest wonder is, where does Austria expect to get the money to maintain her immense army? The virtually bankrupt condition of the imperial finances is everywhere known, as is the other fact that the empire never raises sufficient revenue to meet her enormous expenditures. She has nevertheless managed in some way or other to get along. Austria's condition has been likened to that of some large corporations in the United States that in various panics fail from unavoidable necessity, yet cannot sink nor be crushed out, because their preservation, in some shape, is a necessity. But Austria is not dismayed at her financial poverty, as it is not worse now than it has been for many a year. The Emperor and his Cabinet have borrowed an American idea, and in putting forth all the strength they can muster, expect to maintain it by loans rather than by revenue. The Empire is flooded with a national paper currency, and the specie basis of the country is gone. It is by this means they expect to maintain the immense armies, and successfully combat the allies, and as the experiment so far in this country has been fraught with success, there is little doubt the patriotism of the Austrians will secure for the national loan there favorable results.

A NOVEL ARGUMENT.

The New York Tribune is a persistent and consistent advocate of Negro Suffrage, and is extremely desirous of extending amnesty to all the rebels to obtain it. Here is one of its arguments:

"Our 'theory' is that blacks would vote much like other men; and that so long as they remained ignorant and insignificant, they would naturally be much under the influence of those they esteemed wiser and more intelligent than themselves. But all this is subject to the reservation that they would take care not to vote against themselves. If a great planter should wish to go to the Legislature in order to vote there for the re-establishment of Slavery, or anything else in that line, he would get very few Black votes, whether on his own plantation or elsewhere."

No doubt the Tribune is quite right in concluding that "blacks would vote much like other men." And we have only to ascertain how "other men" vote, to form an opinion of the way the blacks would vote. Every man knows that the less enlightened the voter the more liable he is to become the instrument of somebody; and when there are masses of such voters great evils are the immediate consequence. No argument is needed on this point. But the Tribune says the negroes may be relied upon "not to vote against themselves." We ask—why they, more than white men? It is every day's experience that white men do "vote against themselves," persistently, fatally. On the sharp issue of slavery the blacks might be relied on to vote right; but how would it be on the Tariff, Currency, and other important questions? Can they be expected to cast an intelligent vote on grave issues like these? If we have read the Tribune aright, that paper has many a time deplored the existence of an ignorant franchise as the source of most deplorable evils. There is no earthly reason why men should be excluded on their color, but this is not fraught with half the danger that the admission of large numbers of totally unqualified persons would be. The one is an evil to be remedied any time, the other would be an evil permanent and measurably incurable.

In one of the Tribune's arguments it was maintained that the negro so hated his late master that he could be relied on to vote against him, and therefore should be permitted to do so. This, it must be conceded, is more novel than convincing. We believe nothing of the sort has heretofore been held to be a valid qualification for voting. If any conclusion is to be drawn from it, it is quite the reverse of what the Tribune intends, and it matches well with other things proposed, seemingly for no other reason in the world than to keep alive animosities where there should be nothing but good will and harmony. When the freedmen are qualified they should vote. We do not believe they are qualified now. There is no evidence of it. The Tribune does not pretend they are, only that hating their late masters they may be relied on to vote against them, and that, we conclude, is not qualification enough.

SIGNIFICANT ADMISSION.

During the argument before the Supreme Court at Harrisburg, of the question of the constitutionality of the law disfranchising deserters, the Harrisburg Telegraph states that J. McDOWELL SHARPE, Esq., the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Franklin district, in his argument against the constitutionality of the law, "proclaimed the startling fact that the number of deserters in Pennsylvania would amount to thirty thousand, and that twenty-five thousand belonged to the Democratic party." If this be true, and we see no reason to doubt, how much stronger then the argument in favor of the law disfranchising deserters? Is it not eminently just that those who saved our existence as a nation should be upheld in the expenditure of their blood and risking of their lives, by enabling them to maintain its purity at the ballot box? If these twenty-five thousand Democratic deserters be permitted to exercise the elective franchise, there may be danger of the overthrow of the principles which the soldiers of the Union fought to maintain. Thanks, however, to a pure judiciary, the constitutionality of the law will be affirmed, and the election of General GEARY as Governor assured by a majority of fifty thousand.

THE FENIAN RETREAT.

The column of Fenians that took possession of Fort Erie, got into a box, and in attempting to get out of it got into another. The latter was probably to be preferred to the former, since to fall into the hands of of the United States authorities must be deemed preferable to being shot or captured by the British. The movement of Col. O'NEILL, it is now said, was but a feint. Whether it was so intended or not, it cannot be denied that it was a miserable failure. We incline to believe that it was designed to be a feint, and though badly conducted may have been to some extent successful, since it may have partly withdrawn attention from the operations at other points. To have been completely successful, however, Col. O'NEILL should have withdrawn his entire force at the right moment. Though serving the purpose, possibly, so far as SWEENEY was concerned, it was nevertheless attended by unexpected misfortune to the expedition, and the affair is not calculated to fill Fenians with sincere joy.

RIVER IMPROVEMENTS.

We have received a copy of the bill reported by the Committee on Commerce, making appropriations for the repair, preservation and completion of certain public works heretofore commenced under the authority of law, and for other purposes, which was read twice in the House, April 17th, and committed to the Committee of the whole House on the state of the Union and ordered to be printed. We find among the appropriations the following items of interest to the commerce of Pittsburgh:

For examination and survey of improvements on the western and northwestern rivers, for which appropriations have heretofore been made, and concerning which no sufficient information is now in possession of the department, one hundred thousand dollars.

For improvement of the Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas, and Ohio rivers, five hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The fourth section enacts that the Secretary of War be directed to cause examinations or surveys, or both as aforesaid, to be made (among other points) of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh, Pa., and Buffington Island, West Virvinia.

WHAT WILL MAXIMILIAN DO?—The following is an official translation from La France newspaper of the 15th of May: "The embarkation of troops of Austrian volunteers for Mexico has been countermanded. Those enlisted have been discharged, and a majority of them have been enrolled in the army of the North." It has become a serious question, What will the usurper in Mexico do? To sustain himself independent of foreign aid, is impossible, and the gradual withdrawal of the French supports must necessarily be the inclined plane on which he will descend from his unrighteous elevation.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

PULPIT PUNGENCIES, with a Table of Contents, pp. 332, 12mo. New York: Carleton, Publisher, 1866.

This is a book of short pieces, varying from two lines to a page in length, and five hundred and ninety-five in number. They have been selected by the anonymous author from his own sermons, preached, according to the dates appended, in 1859 and 1860. The collection may be fairly termed Homilitical mincemeat, with the bones picked out. There are many nice and good things among these excerpts, but the propriety of calling them "pungencies" does not in every case appear obvious. But the application of the term by the author himself is intended, perhaps, modestly to intimate that they are not given as "specimen bricks" of the entire discourses. We give two or three samples, of different kind.

"It makes a great difference whether a sin is amusing or not about its being tolerated—laughable lies and wickedness go along smoothly, when every body kicks sober ones."

"The idea of expatriating a million free men is preposterous! Let a man take opium and then talk these things, and we will not wonder; but when a man takes the Bible and then talks them, we are amazed." 1859.

"There are many men who coin every drop of manly blood in them to get money, and when they have got it, they are miserable desiccated mummies, only needing the cerements on them to make them complete."

The book will be read with pleasure, being full of vivacious thoughts. We could give a guess at its authorship, but we make it a rule to let every body do his own guessing. It is for sale by J. W. Pittock, Fifth street.

KATE MARSTON; OR HAPPY HEARTS MAKE HAPPY HOMES. A fireside story, pp. 300, 12 mo. New York, Carleton, publisher, 1866.

A cursory reading of this book inclines us to judge favorably of it, as a simple story of events told in an agreeable manner. Under fictitious names it recounts incidents and portrays characters understood to be connected with the ecclesiastical and school institutions of Burlington, New Jersey. It is a book of strongly Episcopal bearings, introducing in its progress most of the topics usually discussed and talked of in that church. Its moral tendency appears to be unexceptionable and quite in accord with the pleasant title that it bears.

It is for sale by J. W. Pittock.

THE MUTE SINGER. A novel, by Annie Cora Ritchie (Mowatt), author of "Fairy Fingers," "Pen Portraits," &c., pp. 360, 12mo. New York, Carleton, publisher, 1866.

On the well known character of the author, and the favor with which her numerous previous productions have been received, we must rely for our judgment of this the latest work of her pen and mind, until we can command time to read it. And we have no doubt many of our readers will be before us in this. At J. W. Pittock's bookstore, Fifth street, this neat volume can be purchased.

CONGRESS after a brief recess to do honor to the memory of General SCOTT, comes together tardily. There is manifestly a disposition in favor of an early adjournment, and we think we may henceforth count on shorter speeches and fewer of them. The Reconstruction, the Tax and the Tariff questions remain to be disposed of. Considerable progress has already been made in the former two, and it is not unlikely that next week will see the question of Reconstruction disposed of, the Tax bill through the House, and the Tariff bill introduced. It seems to be understood that the Senate, when they get together again, will make short work of the pending constitutional amendments. The votes already taken indicate the power and the will to put them through the first moment a vote can be obtained. In the House, although Mr. STEVENS will urge his scheme as a substitute, no time will be lost in setting it aside, and in seconding the action of the Senate. It is said that even Mr. STEVENS will not stand out, but will go with the Union members in supporting the plan brought forward as a substitute for his various attempts? Mr. STEVENS is too old a stager to refuse to follow when he has ceased to be the leader of others. It has transpired that at no time did the Senate branch of the Committee of Fifteen agree to the report of Mr. STEVENS, and which passed the House by the aid of the Democrats.

Indirect Effect of War in Europe.

The anticipations of a war in Europe has produced a serious derangement of credit on the Continent, and many of our importing merchants find it impossible to make use of the credits of New York bankers in the cities of Germany. Under the threatening complication of politics, the banking houses of Germany have severely contracted their commercial credits. Should actual war occur, says the New York Economist, the utmost confidence in the credit of American houses would not prevent a very extensive contraction of credit facilities in Germany. Under all the circumstances, therefore, it seems very probable that some of our importers will find it impossible to import the usual amount of Continental manufactures, and that an important proportion of our purchases in Germany may have to be made on cash terms. We understand that one of the largest jobbing importers in this city has had to remit a considerable amount of gold to the Continent, through his usual credit proving unavailable; and if such be the case with a first class firm, how may it be expected to prove with many others? It would perhaps be unsafe, however, to count upon a light importation, as the result of this condition of things; for manufactures may be expected to sell at very low prices, under the excessive depression in the markets; and when prices are low, there are always found those who can command the means for buying goods."

The Proposed French Version of the Bible

Some weeks since we published an account of a large public meeting in Paris, composed of Protestants, Jews and Roman Catholics. An association was formed to secure a new and accurate translation of the Bible. As soon as the details of this meeting were published, the Jesuits and Ultramontanes cried out against it and poured out a torrent of invectives against the priests who had approved the project, declaring that the association was indecent, dishonest, an attack on the principles and rights of the Roman Catholic Church, and contrary to the decrees of the Councils and the Sovereign Pontiffs. The poor priests who had given their approval to the project, under the fear of being anathematized, have one after another written that they would abandon the enterprise, and hence a failure of this interesting and important enterprise.

Central Transportation Company.

George R. Dykeman, Agent of the Central Transportion Company, in a communication to the Chicago Times, regarding an article announcing the formation of a company by Pullman, Kimball and Ramsey, for building and placing upon Southern railroads, sleeping cars, and an invitation to the public to subscribe to the stock, under a special charter from the State of Tennessee, with a capital of $500,000, says: "That the public should understand that a company already exists, formed under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, called the 'Southern Transportation Company,' for the building and running of sleeping cars on Southern railroads, and that this company and their assignors, the Central Transportation Company of Philadelphia, are the claimants of all the principal patent devices used by Mr. Pullman in his sleeping cars. As owners of these patents they have taken the opinion of Messrs. Goodwin, Larned & Goodwin, of Chicago, and other counsel associated with them, that Mr. Pullman's sleeping cars are all of them infringements upon these prior patents, and are not covered or protected by the patents of Pullman & Field, and suit has been commenced (and is now pending) in the Circuit Court of the United States against Mr. Pullman for such infringement. All persons are warned, that these prior patent rights will be enforced against all persons infringing them."

Maryland Sunday Laws.

The Sunday law passed at the last session of the Maryland Legislature, went into effect last Sabbath. In some respects the law is very stringent. Under its provisions, no person in the State shall sell, dispose of, barter, or if a dealer, give away on the Sabbath day, any tobacco, cigars, candy, soda or mineral water, spirituous or fermented liquors, cordials, lager beer, wine, cider or any other wares, goods or merchandize whatever, under a penalty of not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars. For the second offense the penalty is not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, and imprisonment not less than ten nor more than thirty days, and the license declared null and void. One half the fine goes to the informer. It shall not be lawful to keep open or use any dancing saloon, opera house, ten pin alley, barber saloon, livery stable (except for funeral purposes), within the State on Sunday, under a penalty of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars.

CATTLE BROKERS MUST TAKE OUT A LICENSE.—In the United States Court, at Cincinnati, a case of public interest has just terminated. The internal revenue law defines a cattle broker: "Any person whose business it is to buy or sell or deal in cattle, hogs or sheep, shall be considered as a cattle broker." Farmers whose business it has been to buy, sell and deal in fatted hogs and cattle for market—the contracts being made with the producer in the summer, and the cattle or hogs delivered in the fall or spring ready for slaughtering or shipment—have so far disregarded the law as not to take out licenses for carrying on this kind of business; claiming because they were engaged in carrying on farms, that they did not fall within the statute as cattle brokers. The suit just decided was the United States against William Kenton, who is a farmer in Champaign county, but who, it was proved, made contracts with three different persons for fatted hogs, to be delivered about the first day of March last. The case was elaborately argued by the District Attorney (Major Corwine) for the Government, and Messrs. Fulton and Leedon for the defense. After an able charge by Judge Leavitt, the jury returned a verdict for the Government. This, being a test case, is regarded as decisive of the question of the liability of this class of farmers to take out licenses as cattle brokers. It will add largely to the revenue of the Government to have this branch of the law rigidly enforced, and we suppose farmers who do this business will at once acquiesce in this result.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

A New Orleans letter says: Our crevasses are hardly as dangerous or destructive to crops as at first apprehended, but the continued and excessive rains, which have been general, have so diminished and damaged the cotton plants that you must deduct a third I think from your former estimates of the cotton supply for 1866–7, unless Brazil, which seems likely to prove a great rival to us in the world's supply, should this year make up, as some think it will, the deficiency.

In the still celebrated eating and drinking house known as Romponneau, in Paris, which was famous in 1765, and is still well known, fifty quarts of brandy are drank daily between five and nine o'clock A. M., two hundred barrels of wine are emptied weekly, four thousand five hundred barrels are in the cellar, fifty servants are employed every Sunday, when $3,000 are taken at the counter. The copper in the kitchen is worth, estimated by weight alone, $1,400.

The Washington correspondent of the London Times, describing the prayers of the Chaplain of the United States House of Representatives, says: "Sometimes he startles his hearers by some such passage as this, which he deliverd in a prayer a few weeks ago: "O Lord, Thou hast governed the world six thousand years, and we believe Thou hast governed it well." Thus the approbation of Congress was given to the government of the universe in a way that must have been very soothing to the pride of all true American people."

A lively demand for grammars and dictionaries has lately been created, in a somewhat singular manner, in Scotland. The tailors there have been "on a strike," which has now ended. While it lasted, however, numerous German tailors were imported, who were ignorant of the English language, and who immediately convulsed the book-stalls by a clamor for dictionaries.

M. Gerome will contribute to the forthcoming Paris exhibition of pictures a painting representing Cleopatra introducing herself to Caesar, in his tent, whilst he is writing dispatches. Repeatedly denied access to "that cold blooded Caesar," she at last contrived to be rolled, nearly naked, in the folds of a carpet which the General was desirous of seeing at his tent. Thus she presents herself; he looks up from his work, not deeply moved.

A beautiful car has just been completed for the sole use of John W. Garrett, Esq., President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. On the right of it, upon the outside, is a handsomely painted coat of arms of the United States, enclosed by a miniature representation—in wood—of a railroad track, with cross-ties, &c. (of oval shape), and upon the opposite side is the coat of arms of Maryland, similarly surrounded. The rear portion of the car is set apart as a sort of verandah, while the main portion is plainly but elegantly furnished. Upon the ceiling of the car are six paintings, executed by one of the company's workmen, representing Morning, Night, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.

Interesting to Commission Merchants.

Judge Fox, of the Superior Court, at Cincinnati, has just decided an interesting case. The case was that of Letitia F. Hume vs. Addy, Hull and Ray, commission merchants. The plaintiff left with the defendants on or about the 1st of February, 1865, forty-two bales of cotton to sell as commission merchants. Ten bales were sold on the 23d of February, 1865, producing $986. Defendants had then advanced on the cotton $4,768, and subsequently made other advances—in all $61618. On the 23d of February, it is said by plaintiff's witnesses, orders were given to sell ten bales at the then market price, and the twenty bales left were directed not to be sold for less than one dollar per pound.

On the part of defendants, it is charged that although plaintiff limited the price to $1, the defendants told plaintiff's agent that if the price of cotton declined so as to endanger the safety of what had been advanced, they should sell the cotton for the best price that could be obtained.

Defendants did not sell at a less price than $1 per pound, and the plaintiff claims the right to treat the commission merchant as a purchaser of the twenty bales at $1 per pound.

After a careful hearing of the case, the Judge said:

In order to charge the defendants as such purchaser, the plaintiff must make out by a preponderance of evidence—first, that she did in fact limit the factor; and secondly, that at the time she had a right to fix such limit.

There is no doubt that the owner of goods, which he consigns for sale, may limit the price at which they may be sold. But when a large advance is made by the factor, the evidence must show that the latter accepted the goods upon the condition that he should not sell below the limit, and more particularly so when advances have been made to three-quarters of the present market value of the goods.

If the case depended on the evidence as to whether defendants agreed to accept the commission upon the condition that no part of the twenty bales should be sold under any circumstances, for less than one dollar per pound, the plaintiff's evidence would be held insufficient.

But there was another view of the case, showing that the plaintiff cannot charge the defendants as purchasers.

The owner may limit the price at which he is willing his property should be sold, if he does so when he makes the consignment without making any advance. But, if he deposits with, or consigns to, a factor, merchandise for sale, without limit as to price, and receives advances upon it; or draws upon the factors fund's in anticipation of sales, he has no right, after receiving such advances in money, or in acceptances, to limit the factor as to prices. The factor by making advances, has acquired the right to sell at the market price, and he cannot be prevented from exercising this right by any directions of the owner to which he has not clearly and expressly assented.

The plaintiff, by paying all the advances made by defendants, and relieving them from any acceptances, would have placed herself in a position to say at what price her property should be sold; but this she did not do.

The defendants appear to have obtained the best price the market afforded; and as they made advances far beyond the proceeds of sale, the question as to what commission should be allowed need not now be considered.

The defendants, it appears, did not insert the names of the purchasers, giving as a reason that the owner might call upon them, and sell without the intervention of a factor. This reason might satisfy the merchant, but it does not satisfy the law. The owner has a right to know to whom the factor has sold, so that he may inquire whether he has been properly credited, or whether, in fact, any sale was made, or whether it was taken on account by the commission merchant on a rising market.

Judgment was rendered for defendants.

We Advise all Parties Wanting Tickets

To send for them without delay, as we have but a limited number yet on hand. We wish most particularly to impress upon the minds of our Agents the importance of their making their returns at once and of rectifying whatever errors may have crept into their reports heretofore. SUMMER RESORTS.

COLUMBIA HOUSE—
CAPE MAY, N. J.
Opened on the 1st day of June, 1866.

Many improvements have been added to this large and popular establishment since the close of last season. "Birgfield's" celebrated Band has been secured, and nothing will be left undone to sustain the well established reputation of the house.

It has long been admitted that Cape May possesses a better and more secure beach than any other sea side summer resort in the country. It is the only beach where ladies and children can bathe in the ocean by themselves with security.

Excellent railroad facilities and largely extended hotel accommodations must command for Cape May a preference over any other sea shore resort in this country.

The Columbia House is located close upon the beech, with a full ocean view from three fronts of the house. Its bathing rooms are new, and neatly built. Its lawn has a fine group of shade trees, and well laid out walks. Its dining room is very large and airy, and is so situated as to secure a fine ocean breeze at all times of day and evening.

There are connected with the house several fine cottages, which may be secured by families or parties who desire more private quarters than rooms in the hotel.

LABOR.

There's a never-dying chorus,
Breaking on the human ear,
In the busy town before us
Voices loud, and deep and clear.
This is labor's endless ditty;
This is toil's prophetic voice,
Sounding through the town and city
Bidding human hearts rejoice.

Sweeter than the poet's singing
Is that anthem of the free;
Blither is the anvil's ringing
Than the song of bird or bee.
There's a glory in the rattle
Of the wheel and factory gloom;
Richer than e'er snatched from battle
Are the trophies of the loom.

See the skillful mason raising
Gracefully yon towering pile;
Round the forge and furnace blazing
Stand the noble men of toil.
They are heroes of the people,
Who the wealth of nations raise
Every dome, and spire, and steeple
Rear their heads in labor's praise.

Glorious men of truth and labor,
Shepherds of the human fold,
That shall lay the brand and sabre
With the barbarous things of old.
Priests and prophets of creation,
Bloodless heroes in the fight,
Toilers for the world's salvation,
Messengers of peace and light.

Speed the plough and speed the harrow;
Peace and plenty send abroad;
Better far the spade and barrow
Than the cannon or the sword.
Each invention, each improvement,
Renders weak oppression's rod;
Every sign and every movement
Brings us nearer truth and God.

MUSICAL ITEMS.

At Vienna, notwithstanding the rumors of war with Italy, the Italian singers are as popular as ever. In Leipsic, on the contrary, there has been a disturbance, and the police have interfered to protect the Italians from insults in the streets.

A fluteless flutist is spoken of in Havre as performing wonderful things. He makes a flute out of his left hand which he holds in his mouth, using the right in lieu of stops. The notes he produces are not to be distinguished from those of the real instument. His name is Fereyra.

The enthusiasm of the audience at the Theatro San Carlo, in Naples, after the termination of the last performance of Mercadante Virginia was very great. Having applauded the singers to the echo, they called lustily for the composer. Signor Mirate upon this left the stage, and still in the costume of Appio, running up stairs to the box occupied by Mercadante, led the blind maestro on the stage to receive the homage of his admirers.

An unusual number of female violin-players have of late been heard; and two of these, Mdlle. Lebouys and Mdlle. Castellan, have been among the late givers of concerts. M. Leonard, the Belgian violinist, is about to settle in Paris. From every side, rumors reach us of the present unsatisfactory state of the Conservatoire Concerts, M. George-Hainl, the new conductor, being, unless report be more scandalous than usual, unequal to his position. The post is one to which M. Berlioz might fairly have succeeded —did appointments, in this vale of tears, go by merit.

The abbe-pianist, Liszt, has been to Amsterdam to have his 13th Psalm played, and has been crowned and glorified without stint. Moreover, his Mass, a favorite with the Hollanders, has also been performed, and renewed the sensation created on seven or eight former occasions. Liszt was accompanied by his son-in-law, M. de Bulow.

How long should a child practice singing? This question is important for the cultivation of the voice. Not always as long as he or she chooses, since in most cases the pleasure which is derived by the child from singing is greater than the capability to sing. We have to consider rather the character and difficulty of the piece, and the individuality of the pupil. Those singing masters are the wisest who do not allow their pupils to sing longer than from ten to fifteen minutes. If they have to teach a choir they will do well to divide the singers into two classes, one of which may sing while the other rests, as by this means the teacher is enabled to judge better upon every pupil in particular. It is also advisable to let single pupils sing some parts which were not so well or distinctly rendered by the choir.

Women and Crime.

An anonymous German writer, in an article on "The Crimes of Women," shows by irrefragible evidence that they are in a large minority among the criminals of Europe. France exhibits a proportion of 17 per cent. of a serious kind committed by women, to 83 per cent. of similar offenses by men. Statistics stretching from 1825 to 1865, changed nothing in this proportion. In Baden and all Germany bordering on France, the number of prisoners is one in 9,163 men, and one in 46,692 women. The proportions differ somewhat in England and Prussia as compared with France. In the more serious offenses, such as murder and violence, the proportion diminishes from 17 to 15 per cent. Says the writer:

In this exceedingly small comparative amount, the half is occupied by child murder and kindred offenses to which women are especially prone. Notwithstanding that those crimes in France have considerably increased—notwithstanding that in such atrocities the utter forgetfulness of one of the richest and deepest emotions, a mother's love, is to many incomprehensible—notwithstanding that English physicians reckon the annual number of cases of child murders in London at 1,200—yet this dark side of European depravity looks less horrible when we bring Oriental States into comparison, especially China and certain parts of India, in which considerations of convenience, of custom and of caste command the slaughter of all female children without exception—a phenomenon which, in spite of the prohibitions of the Koran, is not uncommon in the States of Asia where Mahometanism predominates.

Child murder apart—women in the aggregate of killings and murders, occupy a somewhat more favorable position than the average figure of seventeen per cent, presents. Here this per centage is only thirteen. The per centage again changes in some special kinds of murder, such as the murder of parents, of husbands, and wives. Women here rise to twenty-five per cent., and in cases of poisoning to forty-three per cent. If we reflect that women in their household affairs, in preparing food, and in placing it on the table, have twenty times as many opportunities as men to mix and offer poison; that this crime, from the nature of the case, is rendered exceedingly difficult for men, the proportion of forty-three per cent. will seem by no means surprising. Moreover those women who, either when cooking for their own family, or cooking for the family of others, are brought into contact and acquaintance with elementary substances, are comparatively seldom faithless to the duties they herein undertake.

Among incendiaries, women occupy a dividend of twenty-six per cent.

Many calumnies against the female sex are signally refuted by criminal statistics.

In accordance with a passage of Scripture, and the opinion of Josephus, who reproached women with levity of tongue, the testimony of women was regarded as untrustworthy by the tribunals of the middle ages. Yet in France in every hundred cases of perjury, we find only twenty-five women.

In the lighter class of offenses which French law, to distinguish them from serious crimes, calls transgressions, the average figure of 17 per cent. is so far changed, that we have to reckon an average of 20 per cent. as women's share, thus the fifth part of the statistical table.

But there are also here manifold degrees and shades, according to the nature of particular transgressions. Only in one single class of transgressions are women more numerous than men, a class most tempting to cupidity and most fatal to morals; the classes embraced by the instrumentality in systematic seduction.

If we take a thousand cases of defamation and calumny, we find women guilty of 276; if an equal number of ordinary thefts, women guilty of 270; of begging, 226; of imposture, 202; of assault, in its various forms, 122; of offenses against religion, 113; of turbulence and resistance to the government officers, 95.

He shows that it is not as a French Minister of Justice suggested, due to their sedentary life, nor to lack of opportunities, nor their peculiarities of temperament, as suggested by Berrenger, but to early education. He remarks:

If we compare the amount and nature of cultivation of the persons who are brought to the bar of justice, the proposition must be accepted that the defects and neglects of early education are much less atoned for, much less effaced by the experience of later life in women than in men. Among an equal number of criminals of the two sexes, women invariably show a greater lack than men of elementary instruction.

In some States, as for instance in France, the girls instructed in elementary schools are less numerous than the boys. But the observation made above recurs too often to allow us to disregard it. Prussian statistics show us among a thousand men accused of crime, 173 without elementary instruction; among a thousand women similarly accused, 273 without instruction. If in lands where school education is compulsory, females criminals are more frequently destitute than men of elementary instruction. This is an indication that the neglect of school education and the excessive carelessness of parents exercise a more pernicious influence on girls. This deduction is confirmed by the observation made by Engel, that the proportion of offenses committed by women to those committed by men becomes the more favorable the better women are educated, and the more their position in life is safe and sure.

American Israelites.

The Seventh Convention of American Israelites met in New York last week. Forty-eight congregations were represented each by two delegates, and in all no less than seventy-six religious organizations in the United States were represented.

From the report of the Executive Committee, it appeared that a sum of $15,000 had been subscribed by American Israelites for the relief of the cholera stricken Jews of Palestine. Of this amount $12,977 had been expended, a balance of $2,123 remaining in the hands of the Treasurer at latest dates, the same to be appropriated toward the building of a Jewish Almshouse in Jerusalem.

Adverting to the progress of the age, the Executive Committee alluded with pride to the fact that the rights of Jewish citizens of Switzerland had been restored to them, and called attention to the significance of the news setting forth that, for the first time in history, a Christian Emperor—the Emperor of Austria—had made an attack upon his Jewish subjects the pretext for sending an army into an adjoining kingdom. Having spoken of the improved condition of the Israelites of Persia, the report proceeded to invite attention to the project put forward by the French Alliance Israelite Universelle relative to the establishment of Jewish free schools in the Orient, discussed the expediency of founding a Jewish theological seminary for the education of candidates for the ministry, recommended the adoption of a system of distribution of Jewish tracts, for the better diffusion of religious knowledge, and finally urged upon the members of the Convention the necessity of laboring energetically in the cause of Judaism, and of resisting all encroachments made on civil and religious liberty.

A "Striker" sent to the Penitentiary.

The Union strikers, ship-carpenters and others, of New York city, deny that force is used to compel those who are willing to work at the old rates to quit work and join the strike. It appears, however, that such is not the case, for in the Special Sessions last week, John Parker, a ship carpenter was tried, on the charge of assaulting William H. Brown, was convicted and sent to the Penitentiary for three months. Upon conviction Judge Downing censured those on a strike for resorting to violence to attain their object, and his argument was good. He declared that men had a perfect right to form associations to advance their interests and keep up their wages. Everything they did by peaceable means, reason and persuasion, was perfectly proper; but they had no right to intimidate and coerce by force and violence, others into a strike.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.
The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.
The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.
Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.
The business will be conducted by the same office and Directors.

NATURE'S OWN REMEDIES.
CONGRESS SPRING WATER.
EMPIRE SPRING WATER.
COLUMBIAN SPRING WATER.
No natural or artificial compound has yet been discovered or manufactured that equals these waters as a preventive, relief, and permanent cure for many temporary and chronic diseases, as proved by many thousands who have drank them for years.

CONGRESS WATER
Is a cathartic, alterative, and tonic, and is a valuable remedy for affections of the Liver and Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Gout, Chronic Constipation, and Cutaneous Diseases. Is a most powerful preventive of Fever and Billious Complaints.

EMPIRE WATER
Is a cathartic, and a valuable remedy for Rheumatism, Derangement of the Liver, Diseases of the Skin, and General Debility. Its effects are most salutary in Lung Diseases. It is an almost sure cure for Scrofula and the most aggravated forms of Dyspepsia. For all Billious Derangements it stands unrivaled.

COLUMBIAN WATER
Is a tonic and diuretic of a highly beneficial character, and is a positive remedy for Diabetes, Gravel, Calculus, Irritation and Inflammation of the Kidneys and Bladder. It has most singularly active effects in restoring these organs when debilitated by long disease. Females who have suffered for years from irregularity, and the distressing diseases known only to their sex, have been entirely cured by the faithful and judicious use of Columbian Water.
These waters are bottled fresh and pure from the above named springs, and preserve their medicinal value for years.
Beware of Imitations and Inferior Waters. The corks of all genuine waters are branded on the side of the cork.

CHOLERA
DISARMED !!!
The Chief Causes of Pestilence Destroyed.
DR. E. COURTARET'S DISINFECTING FLUIDS, secured by Letters Patent in the United States and France. Prepared solely by the New York Disinfecting Company, at their Laboratory, Nos. 298, 300 & 302 Henry street, New York. Office, 42 Cedar street.
This Company organized on a permanent basis, with Dr. Courtaret, the celebrated French Chemist, in charge of its Laboratory, is prepared to furnish its DISINFECTING FLUIDS for sick rooms, nurseries, urinals, water closets, privies, cesspools, sewers gutters, ships, railroads, hospitals, prisons and public institutions of all kinds, slaughter-houses, offal and fat boiling establishments; all kinds of manures (immensely increasing the value of the latter to every farmer), and wherever poisonous and offensive gases exist. These agents are deodorizers, antiseptics, antiputrescents and disinfectants in the scientific meaning of the words. They remove noxious gases and odors by chemical principles—leaving in their places healthful air; they are DESTROYERS, and not merely absorbents of poisonous gases—not injurious to utensils in which they are used. The attention of medical and scientific men is directed to these disinfectants. Attached are testimonials in favor of this great discovery, which, with hundreds of others can be seen at the Company's office.

DELAVAN HOUSE, ALBANY, March 30, 1866.
To the President of the New York Disinfecting Company:
Dear Sir: It is all it is represented to be. We have made many trials of disinfectants, but now consider that we have found an article which surpasses all others as a remedy against all bad odors.
T. ROESSEL & Co.

NEW YORK, April 9, 1866.
To the President of the New York Disinfecting Company:
Dear Sir: We pronounce it without exception to be the best we have ever known. Its effects upon every matter is complete and instantaneous.

BURKE & BARNES'
SAFES.
FIRE PROOF.
READ THE FOLLOWING:

NEW LIBERTY, KY., May 2, 1865.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes:
GENTLEMEN: In 1857 or 1858 I purchased from you two large Iron Safes for the use of two business houses in this place, one of which became injured by the extreme heat, and the falling of heavy timbers at a fire which occurred in our little town, some time since, though I can say for the safe, that it stood the test, and, after the burning of some thirty-three houses, and the heat passed off, sufficiently to allow me to dig out of the wreck our safe, I opened it, and to our utter astonishment, found all the valuables perfectly safe, and found not a single piece of paper burned. Yours, truly, R. S. BECK.

SALEM, OHIO, May 11th, 1865.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
GENTLEMEN: On the night of the 27th ult., our machine shop was entirely destroyed by fire. In it was one of your No. 10 Safe, purchased from you some ten years since. The safe stood in the second story, and fell on top of boiler below. It was taken out of the ruins next day about three o'clock, P. M., when we found nothing on the inside was harmed in the least, not even starting the varnish on the inside. We cheerfully recommend your safes as fire proof.
Truly, &c., SHARP, DAVIS & BONSALL.

The Great Opera House Fire, Cincinnati.
THE ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY,
OFFICE SUPERINTENDENT WESTERN DIV'N,
CINCINNATI, May 3, 1866.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh:
DEAR SIRS: Yours of the 1st inst. received, and contents noted.
I had one of your manufacture of Safes in my office at the time of the destruction of Pike's Opera House Building, in this city, by fire on the night of March 22, last. The safe was directly under the stage of the Opera House, and was not removed from the ruins until Sunday, March 25th. On opening it after it was taken out, the books and papers it contained were found to be in good condition.
Yours, respectfully,
ALFRED GAITHER, Sup't.

Burke & Barnes' Burglar Proof Safe—Drill Proof.
[From a gentleman well known in Pittsburgh—T. S. KNAP, Esq., brother of C. Knap, Esq., and late of the firm of Knap, Woods & Co.]
FIRST NATIONAL BANK, N. Y.,
NEW BERLIN, August 9, 1865.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh:
GENTLEMEN: Having noticed so frequently in the papers the accounts of successful exploits of burglars in opening Bank Safes by the modern plan of drilling, charging and exploding them with gunpowder, our fears were awakened by the apprehension that our institution might be a victim of their achievements. Accordingly we procured the services of one of our best mechanics, and made the attempt to drill the Safe purchased of you in October, 1864. After a most thorough trial of a drill tempered in acid, he found the steel sheet absolutely invulnerable.
We take pleasure in making this statement to you, and that all the locks furnished by you have worked charmingly, and have not caused us a moment's annoyance. Very truly, yours,
T. S. KNAP, President.

CITY MATTERS.

U. P. GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Marshall Appeal Case—Protest of the Appellant Power—The Proposed Directory of Worship—The New School Presbyterian Delegate—Report of the Committee on the Report of the Board of Foreign Missions—The Time and Place of the Next General Assembly, &c., &c., &c.

FOURTH DAY.

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, re-assembled yesterday morning at nine o'clock in the Second U. P. Church, Allegheny City.

Rev. Dr. Kerr, Moderator, called the Assembly to order, and opened the session with prayer.

Rev. Dr. Prestley, clerk, called the roll, and read the minutes of Saturday's proceedings, which were approved by the Assembly.

Rev. W. W. Barr offered a resolution that so much of the report of the Presbytery of Argyle as refers to the transfer of the members of the church, be referred to the Judiciary Committee. Adopted.

By the same, that so much of the report of the Presbyteries of Frankford and Allegheny as refers to marriage within the degrees of consanguinity, be referred to the same committee. Adopted.

By the same, that so much of the report of the Presbytery of Philadelphia as refers to the subject of instrumental music be referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures. Adopted.

The Judiciary Committee having had the appeal case of Eleanor Marshall Jane L. Marshall and Catharine Marshall, under consideration, recommended the adoption of a resolution affirming the decisions of the lower courts. This case, it appears, grew out of a sermon preached in August, 1861, by the Rev. W. M. McConnell, who is charged by the appellants with having asserted that he would not pray for the success of the armies of the Union during the late war, and that he was, therefore, disloyal to the Government, and his conduct reprehensible by the U. P. Church. The affair assumed a personal phase as the appellants were charged with disregarding certain standards of the church. Several investigations into the facts of the case were had and the Rev. Mr. McConnell's loyalty appears to have been sustained, while the counter charges were proven. The appellants appeal from the decision of the Ohio synod, which the General Assembly sustains.

The report of the Presbytery of Des Moines was read and referred.

Rev. John Van Eaton, from the Committee on Overtures, reported relative to a directory for worship. As the book now stands, it is considered defective in a literary point of view, as well as in other respects, by the committee. The vote on its adoption by the Presbyteries was reported as follows: Whole number of Presbyteries, 50; number voting, 32; number not voting, 18; whole number of votes cast, 371; affirmative votes, 299; negative votes, 72; not voting, 8; majority in favor of the proposed directory, 227. The committee, in view of the manifest preference of the church for this work, submitted a resolution for adoption, that the Directory for Worship be adopted for general use in the church.

The report on the case of the Marshall appeal from the division of the Ohio Synod was called up.

Several delegates stated that they knew nothing about the merits of the case, and desired to have all the papers relating to it read before the Assembly.

Rev. Dr. McLaren believed that the Committee, to whom was referred the case in question, had faithfully discharged their duty in the premises. The Assembly ought not now enter upon a discussion of the facts, especially since the papers had not been read.

Rev. D. W. Collins said he was familiar with all the facts of the case, and proposed to enlighten the Assembly thereon.

Rev. Dr. McLaren objected.

Rev. D. W. Bradford called for the reading of the papers.

Rev. Mr. Vance said he had entire confidence in the judgment and discretion of the Committee, but until he heard both sides of the case, he could not vote with any satisfaction on it.

Rev. H. H. Blair read the law of the church on appeals showing that the records of the investigations into this case must be read it demanded; the parties heard; the members of the Board called to give their views, and then the final vote taken.

Rev. Mr. Price moved to lay the whole subject on the table.

Rev. John Van Eaton denied that an appeal could be carried above the General Synod in the present case and believed that it had no business in the Assembly.

Rev. Mr. Blair said the law on that point was imperative. The Assembly was bound to receive the appeal.

Rev. Mr. Van Eaton said the law did not apply in this case.

Rev. D. W. Collins, renewed the motion to lay the matter upon the table, which was seconded and carried.

The report of the Committee on Overtures relative to the Directory for church worship was taken up again, and debated at some length, several delegates strongly urging that the matter of its adoption be delayed until the General Assembly next year.

Rev. Mr. Blair considered it unwise to adopt the report of the committee. A sufficient expression on the subject by the Presbyteries had not been given.

Elder McCandless moved to re-commit the report.

Rev. Dr. Brown said that the report was presented in order to bring the matter before the Assembly. It was not to be taken as an indication that the Committee was in favor of the proposed Directory. They had stated their objections to it in the report and nothing would be accomplished by a re-committal.

Elder McCandless withdrew his motion to recommit.

The question on the adoption of the report and the resolution accompanying it was then put, when

Rev. Mr. Bradford called for its reading. He thought the assembly had no right to adopt—merely to officially declare the action of the Presbyteries.

A delegate said his Presbytery had not been furnished with a copy of the proposed Directory early enough to afford time for an adequate investigation into its merits.

Rev. Dr. Prestley, President of the Publication Board, stated that the work was published at an early day, and a copy promptly transmitted to every Presbytery that requested one.

Rev. W. W. Barr offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the success which has attended our labors in every department of the foreign field calls for sincere thankfulness to God.

Resolved, That we humbly acknowledge the hand of our Heavenly Father in removing by death, during the past year, of the beloved members of our mission families and would sincerely sympathize with the afflicted.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the General Assembly to reinforce the missions in India, China, and Syria immediately.

Resolved, That in view of the difficulty of securing persons who have completed their theological studies, that it is expedient for the Assembly in accordance with the recommendation of the Board to select suitable young men, who have completed their literary course and send them to the foreign field to pursue their theological studies under the direction of an Presbytery there connected with our church.

Resolved, That Messrs. Samuel Martin, J. B. Sands, W. R. Stewart, W. S. Owens, and Miss Mina McCaughey, be appointed to the work of foreign missions.

Resolved, That the Assembly expresses regret that those who were appointed to go to the foreign field last year, did not see their way clear to enter upon the work, and would express the hope that persons who may now be chosen will not decline without weighty reasons.

Resolved, That it is the conviction of the Assembly that had every part of our church performed its duty for the past year to the perishing of foreign lands there need not have been any difficulty in raising the amount of money required to carry on the work.

Resolved, That the missionaries who shall be elected to the foreign work, be at liberty with the advice and consent of the Board, to select their particular field.

Resolved, That all moneys for salaries, buildings and contingent expenses necessary for the carrying on of our work in the foreign field, be consolidated into one fund.

Resolved, That the sum of $100,000 is necessary to carry on the work of Foreign Missions for the coming year, and that Presbyteries be directed to see that the congregations under their care furnish their respective portion of this amount, and that they have the funds in the treasury by the first of January, 1867.

Resolved, That in case of continued disability the Board be authorized to continue to returned missionaries the usual salary given during the first six months after their return, and that they be employed by the Board as it may direct and their health permit, in advancing the cause of foreign missions

Resolved, That in view of the signal blessings that followed the special season of prayer during the past winter and the need which there is at home and abroad for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit, that all our churches be urged to observe the week of prayer in the beginning of 1867.

Resolved, That J. B. Dales, D.D., S. C. Heny and J. M. Wallace, whose term of office expire at this meeting be re elected, and that Dr. Cooper be chosen to fill the portion of the unexpired term for which he was originally elected.

Resolved, That the knowledge and experience possessed by the Secretary of the Board, Dr. Dales and the fidelity and perseverance which he has displayed in the work is highly appreciated and that he be affectionately urged to continue to act with the Board.

Rev. Dr. Prestley, clerk, read all the papers pro and con. relating to the case.

A memorial from the Presbytery of Philadelphia, relative to section 5, chapter 4, page 5, of the Directory of Worship, on church instrumental music, was read and referred.

The Assembly then adjourned, prayer being offered by the Rev. Mr. Stevenson.

EVENING SESSION.

The Assembly re-convened at half-past seven o'clock, p. m., Rev. Dr. Kerr, Moderator, in the chair.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Patterson.

The Assembly resolved itself into Committee of the Whole on the Foreign Missions in India, China and Syria.

Rev. Mr. Millen was called to the chair.

A debate ensued in which the Reverends Messrs. Dr. Brown, Dr. Prestley, Van Eaton, Patterson, Price, McGill, Tris, Barr, and Elder Getty participated.

The condition of the Foreign Missions was fairly presented by these gentlemen. The Missionaries in India, China and Syria, it was shown, had labored faithfully for several years, and the church was bound by every known consideration based upon justice and equity, not only to furnish them with adequate support, but to pay them the several thousands of dollars due for past services. The speakers presented in general their views on the subject, and from remarks that were made it was manifestly a question of doubt with some whether the church would be able to sustain all its foreign missions, owing to a lack of material aid. But all deprecated any such result of the mission labors of the church, and eloquently pleaded the importance of sustaining the gospel, and sending it to the ends of the earth. The Board of Foreign Missions ask for $100,000, to carry on their operations for the ensuing fiscal year. The question was settled in their minds that this money must be raised, and there was a general encouraging sentiment created relative to the probable success of the plan for supporting these missions during the coming year.

Concentration was urgently suggested as the best means of keeping up, at least, the Egyptian mission, but the predominant sentiment was to sustain all the missions belonging to the church. It was claimed that there had been considerable prosperity in the North and among the members of the church, and appeals were made for liberal contributions to the cause.

At half-past nine o'clock the committee rose and reported progress.

Rev. Dr. Kerr resumed the chair.

The Committee of the Whole duly reported, and the Assembly, by a unanimous vote, refused it permission to sit again, which means that the church is in earnest on the subject of this branch of its work, and intends to rally its forces to build up its foreign missions.

The Assembly then adjourned until nine o'clock this morning, prayer being offered by the Rev. C. Cummings.

Criminal Court.

The June term of the Court of Quarter Sessions commenced yesterday morning. The President Judge, J. P. Sterrett, and Associate Judge, John Brown, on the bench.

The Court appointed the following officers: Crier—John Patterson; Tipstaves, for Quarter Sessions and Common Pleas—J. R. Larimer, John C. Smith, Warren McIlwaine, Wm. Boston, J. McIlwaine, Robert Neely, M. B. Hartzell, W. A. Charleston. To attend upon Grand Jury—John Messner, John Buhoup, J. S. Richardson.

The list of Grand and Traverse Jurors was first called. There were four of the Grand Jurors who were summoned, did not answer. There were forty-eight Traverse Jurors, twenty-eight of whom answered. The following are the names of those who answered.

GRAND JURY.

Thomas Armstrong, merchant, 2d ward, Allegheny city, foreman; Jacob Boobyer, merchant, Sewickley township; Robert Bole, cooper, 4th ward, Allegheny city; S. R. Craig, druggist, 4th ward, Allegheny city; David Campbell, farmer, South Fayette township; Samuel A. Clark, book dealer, 1st ward, Pittsburgh; Chas. Derdlen, teamster, 2d ward, Allegheny city; James Gill, farmer, Indiana township; John R. Jacques, clerk, East Birmingham; John Little, grocer, 3d ward, Pittsburgh; John Latshaw, pattern maker, 9th ward, Pittsburgh; J. M. Little, supervisor, Collins township; Wm. C. Macrum, farmer, Collins township; James McKelvy, druggist, 9th ward, Pittsburgh; Ormsby O. Phillips, manufacturer, 1st ward, Allegheny city; Hugh M. Perry, shoemaker, 6th ward, Pittsburgh; Harvey W. Richards, roller, 9th ward, Pittsburgh; Leonard Road, miller, Upper St. Clair township; James Sholes, carpenter, 3d ward, Allegheny city; Arthur Walker, clerk, 4th ward, Pittsburgh.

TRAVERSE JURY.

Adam Arris, Jacob Born, Frederick Beilstein John Clever, John Coulter, Christopher Cook, Hugh Diamond, Henry Duff, F. H. Edmundson, Andrew Elliott, James Fife, Sr., A. J. Gribben, Joseph Hughey, H. Johnston, Thomas Jones, Thomas Kerr, Joseph Keeling, William Kearnes, Robert Lafferty, Joseph Livingston, John Larkins, Mark Mehaffey, David S. McKee, John McColy, R. P. Nevin, C. H. Paulson, George Wilson, F. L. Young.

Judge Sterrett then delivered verbally the usual charge, to the Grand Jury. He referred to the vast increase of crime in the county, and its cause. He said the public jails are filled with criminals, a majority of whom are strangers. Since the war they are mostly those, who enlisted in the army, got their bounty, and deserted. When the war ended they betook themselves to the various cities, and committed depredations upon the citizens. He also referred to the duties of citizens in giving a helping hand to officers of the law in cases of necessity. Many guilty persons have escaped, who might have been arrested, if the law-abiding public had done their duty. Some persons who see a depredation or breach of the public peace committed, will not make it public, simply because they fear being called as witnesses at Court, which might put them to inconvenience in their daily toil. Thus the ends of public justice are thwarted, and the criminal cheated of his dues. The charge in the whole was a very able one. The Grand Jury then retired to their rooms.

The returns of the constables of the various wards, boroughs and townships, of the taverns and liquor saloons in their respective districts, were made under oath.

The following cases were then called up and disposed of:

Commonwealth vs. Thomas Dunn, charged with surety of the peace on oath of T. J. Carothers. The defendant was ordered to pay the costs, and enter $500 bail to keep the peace for one year.

Commonwealth vs. John Klein, charged with surety of the peace on oath of Jesse Long. The defendant was ordered to pay the costs, and enter $200 in his own recognizance to keep the peace for one year.

Commonwealth vs. David Scott, charged with surety of the peace on oath of his wife Maggie Scott. The defendant was ordered to pay the costs, and enter $500 in his own recognizance to keep the peace for one year.

A Compliment to Heller, the Pianist.

An unusual pressure upon our columns for a day or two past, has crowded out an intended mention of a most agreeable affair that came off at the Monongahela House on Friday evening last. At about 11 o'clock Prof. Hartel's brass band, of this city, proceeded to the hotel at which Mr. Heller is stopping, and serenaded that gentleman, by way of their appreciation of his great musical powers. After performing several delightful airs, the band was invited to Mr. Heller's room, where the compliment was acknowledged in bumpers of sparkling champagne, interspersed with a number of pleasant little speeches from Mr. Heller and his guests. A parting performance by the band concluded this very pleasant affair, which, being wholly unexpected, was, we judge, none the less gratifying to Mr. Heller, being a voluntary tribute by superior musicians to his great genius in this line of art.

POST OFFICE APPOINTMENTS.—The following appointments were made Thursday last by the Postmaster General:

Thomas P. Graham, postmaster at Fayette, Allegheny county, Pa., vice Andrew Dickson, resigned.

Z. Zimmerman, postmaster at Salem Cross Roads, Westmoreland County, vice John Doncaster, resigned.

Daniel S. Goodwin, postmaster, at Smithfield, Fayette county, Pa., vice G. G. Clamner, removed.

The postoffice at Payne, Indiana county, is discontinued.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY.—As already noticed, that the Board of Directors of this Institution contemplated adding one thousand new books to its already well filled shelves, we have now the pleasure of stating that five hundred volumes have just been purchased, and it is expected the other five hundred will be selected at no very distant day. It has been deemed best, in order to present the admirable advantages and attractive features of the Institution, and canvass for members, to engage the services of Mr. John H. Morris, who will enter upon his duties at once. We bespeak for him the favorable consideration of business men and others.

SPOTTED LIKE DOMINOES.—The teeth soon become speckled if every defilement is not removed from them every twenty-four hours. To do this effectually there is nothing like Sozodont. It literally renders the enamel impervious and indestructible.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY, June 4th—P. M.

The sharp rise in the gold premium to-day was the feature of the market. The opening quotations at the New York Board were 140¾, but it quickly rose to 142, 142½, 143@144, and closed at 143¼. Our brokers were buying it as high as 142, and large amounts of cash gold changed hands during the day. Governments were not materially effected by the gold quotations. The forenoon board prices were: Eighty-ones, 109¾; Five-Twenties, 102¾; Ten-Forties, 95¾; Seven-Thirties, 102¾; Certificates, 100, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 84¾; Fort Wayne, 97¼; Allegheny Valley, 12½; Pittsburgh and Steubenville, 4@4¼; Connellsville, 9¾ to 10; Bennehoff (oil) 12¼; Pithole, 270; United States, 5¼; Quartz Hill, at afternoon board, 395, and United States at 510.

Gold and Railroad stocks afford to operators a much more reliable and less expensive investment than petroleum or mining stocks. Our leading lines are sound and profitable investments, not dependent upon the uncertain contingences incident to oil stocks and kindred fancies, and the commissions are trifling in comparison with them. In time purchases or sales it is not required to pay the heavy differences of a buyer or seller's option, because Railroad stocks being a first-class security, the money can always be borrowed upon them, or the stocks borrowed, as the case may be. Gold is a special favorite on these discounts, and a comparatively small sum enables an operator to buy or sell short a large amount.

—The Ritchie Oil Company has met with another disaster to its wells by fire. A dispatch received this morning, states that the working gearing, tanks, and engine houses belonging to the three wells, together with a small lot of oil, were consumed by fire. This calamity will be a severe blow to the interests of this enterprising company. Its affairs were in admirable order, and the wells were producing a sufficient amount of oil to earn a one ⅌ cent. a month dividend, even at the low market price for oil. It was out of debt with money enough in the Treasury, and its prospects were encouraging and flattering, but this last misfortune has swept away what it required months to build up.

—The following statement exhibits the business of the Pittsburgh Clearing House for the week closing May 26th:

The gold coinage in the same time was $1,519,929 77, mostly in double eagles. The silver coinage was $25,318 74, nearly all in dollar pieces. —Rumors on the street to-day point to a heavy failure of a high functionary of one of our leading railroads. His liabilities are said to be enormous, and may involve other officials on the road. Outside operations and investments have produced the unfavorable turn in his fortunes.

—The Philadelphia Press says: The exports of Petroleum from this port last week reached upwards of a million and a quarter of gallons—viz: 169,460 gallons refined, 30,936 gallons crude to Antwerp, per bark John Trucks; 161,494 gallons refined, 12,187 gallons crude to Bremen, per bark Kathleen; 111,822 gallons refined, 61,847 gallons crude to Antwerp, per bark Alcedo; 37,846 gallons refined to Leghorn, per brig Parkside; 81,957 gallons do. to Cronstadt, per bark Augusta; 75,064 gallons do. to Falmouth, per brig Ramonits; 84,579 gallons do. to Cork, per bark Balthasara; 147,046 gallons do. to Cork, per bark Venus; 169,104 gallons do. to Antwerp, per brig Margaretta Blanca, and 2,000 gallons do. to the West Indies.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, }
TUESDAY, June 5, 1866. }

Business yesterday was not very active. This, however, was nothing unusual for the first day of the week. On this occasion dealers were disposed to look around and see where the best contracts could be obtained. The weather continues pleasant with occasional showers, being very beneficial to the growing crops. The rise in our rivers have produced considerable activity on the wharf and vicinity. A rise of water will at all times produce similar results. The receipts of produce are increasing in fact the market at this time is well supplied, and prices generally have undergone but few changes. Grain—A fair amount of activity has ruled the grain market for some time; the sales were liberal for this market. The stock on hand, however, is not large. Flour remains firm, there being no disposition on the part of holders to make concessions in order to effect sales. The rise in the Allegheny river has increased the export demand for the oil regions. Bacon was very firm with the same steady trade demand that has governed the market for some time. The supply will soon be exhausted unless replenished. Seeds—The market remains unsettled; prices nominal with a limited demand. Butter—Prices were steady, but unchanged; supply about equal to the demand. The Importer took her departure for St. Louis with all the freight she could manage on the water, principally railroad iron. The Kate Putnam is announced for Cincinnati this day. The Leni Leoti takes her departure for Parkersburg at noon. Several other boats are announced to leave on the present rise. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

LEAD—The market continues steady, with a fair jobbing demand; sales 300 pigs Galena at 11c.

HAY—There was a steady trade demand for this article. The previous advance has been maintained. Sales of 14 loads at the scales at $24 00@27 50 per ton; sales of 12 tons baled, first hands, at $25. Stock light.

BEANS—The market was steady but not very active. Sales of 14 barrels new made at $1 70@2 00 per bush.

BUCKWHEAT—The demand was not so active; we note further sales at $2 25 per bushel.

POTATOES—The market has undergone no change for some days past. The receipts are arriving freely with a fair amount of transactions. Among the sales were the following: 4 cars peachblows, $3 25 per bbl, 140 bbls do, from store, $3 25; sales of 250 bush peachblows, $1 25 per bush.

EGGS—The market continues to rule in favor of holders. The demand for export seems to be increasing. We note sales of 25 bbls, in lots, at 24@25c per dozen.

BACON—We have to notice a firm market with a steady trade demand. The stock on hand is not large and will soon require replenishing, the daily transactions being liberal. Among the sales were the following: Shoulders—8,000 lbs, 14½@14¾c. Ribbed Sides—6,000 lbs, 17¼@17½c. Hams—plain—sales 7,000 lbs, 21½@22c. Canvassed Sugar Cured, do—4,000 lbs, 23@23½c. MESS PORK—The sales were limited. We note small sales at previous prices.

BUTTER—Continues to be enquired for with a good demand for home purposes and export. We note sales 26 packages in lots, at prices ranging from 25@28c. The receipts keep pace with the demand.

FLOUR—There was a firm market with a good trade demand, and a larger inquiry for export. The receipts are on the increase. Several parcels were disposed of for future delivery. Among yesterday's transactions were the following: Extra Family Winter Wheat—Sales 200 bbls, $12 00@12 50; sales 160 bbls, $12 60@12 75, and 100 bbls do, $13 00. Fancy lots sold above these figures. Spring Wheat Flour—Sales 200 bbls choice, to arrive, $11 25; sales 100 do, $11 00; sales 75 do, $10 75.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
TUESDAY, June 5, 1866. }

Business so far as relates to oil was not very active yesterday: the transactions were few and far between. The sales of crude on Saturday left the market pretty much bare. A number of lots are known to be on the way, and may arrive at any hour. The Allegheny river being in fair navigable order, boats have resumed their trips to Oil City. The market has undergone no change. Rates that were current on Saturday would answer on the present occasion. Bulk oil of good gravity is held at 14@14½c. Inferior or light oils can be purchased at lower prices. Sales including packages were made at 19@19½c—for the latter figure it was delivered free on cars ready for shipment. The receipts of oil from Smith's Ferry is increasing, the steamer James L. Graham being engaged exclusively in the carrying trade between Pittsburgh and the Ferry. She makes three trips per week.

REFINED OIL.—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. Dealers are disposed to take hold sparingly, while on the other hand, refiners manifest no disposition to force matters. They are disposed to wait, having an abiding faith that their time will soon come. The stock on hand for sale is not large, while most of the refiners have orders on hand sufficient to last for some time. The sales were light, not exceeding 1,000 barrels, as follows: 500 barrels bonded, immediate delivery, Philadelphia, 41½c; 500 bbls do, Philadelphia delivery, September, 47c.

FREE OIL.—Was dull. Prices nominal.

TAR—Was dull. Sales of 200 barrels free on cars at $3 00 per barrel.

CRUDE OIL.—The receipts of Crude oil since our last issue, were the largest that we ever reported during the same length of time, amounting in the aggregate to over 50,000 barrels. The sales were as follows: 50 barrels heavy oil 34@37 gravity, at 23c; sales 2,000 bulk at 14¼c; 500 barrels without packages at 14½c; 100 do 14¾c; 800 bulk 14½c; 850 barrels, packages returned, at 14c; 500 do, bulk, 14c, and 300 barrels 14½c, packages returned, making a total of 5,000 barrels. Notwithstanding the heavy receipts the market closed steady.

The Commercial's money article says: Private dispatches from London by the Nova Scotia, report the pressure as still severe. The Bank of London was reported as having failed. One banking firm in this city draws upon that institution, but from the high standing of the firm there is perhaps no ground for apprehension that the buyers of their bills on London will suffer.

Private advices also report the failure of W. K. Cobrough & Co., Liverpool. A large firm in the cotton trade.

At the date of the Nova Scotia's news none of the recent large shipments of gold from this side had been received. On the afternoon of the 25th the Scotia, with $2,092,743 of our gold, was off the coast, and City of Paris, with $3,006,404, would be due two or three days after the arrival of the Scotia. It is reasonable to suppose that the effect of these large receipts of gold will give a very different tone to the news by the Africa.

The stock market is dull and unsettled, chiefly the effect of the uncertainty respecting the course of speculation in Erie, and the apprehension that the speculative directors may spring a trap on the operators in that stock. At the regular board, prices were generally lower, and the brokers show an indisposition to increase their load in the present condition of the market. Governments are dull under the foreign news and ⅛a¼ lower. Money is in good supply at 6 ⅌ cent. on call. Discounts are active at 6a7 ⅌ cent. for prime names.

The gold market has been unfavorably affected by the foreign news. The gold room instantly jumped to the conclusion that the intelligence bodes further heavy shipments of gold, a conclusion which appeared warranted by the tone of affairs among the foreign bankers, and the price rose at once to 144. At that figure there were plenty of sellers, and the price almost instantly reacted. There appears to be no very important speculative interest outstanding at present. Loans are made flat. Foreign exchange opens very firm, with indications of large business in sight bills. The Nova Scotia's intelligence has helped to strengthen quotations, but buyers show a disposition to hold off in hope of better news by the Africa, which is about due at Halifax.

The Post's money article says the European news is not as favorable as was anticipated, and gold has gone up to 144, opening at 140¾. Coin is plentiful for delivery and rates for carrying it from 3 to 5 per cent. The loan market is easy at 6a7. Commercial paper quiet at 6⅛a7. Stocks depressed and dull. Governments are less active and Railroads drooping.

The bank statement is not favorable. The latter with the market for railroads was stronger. N. Y. Central closed at 98⅝; Erie 62, Michigan Southern 80⅞, Pittsburgh 85, Northwestern, preferred, 58⅜.

Boston Shoe and Leather Market,

June 2.—The boot and shoe market is quiet, with very little doing. There is increased activity in manufacturing circles

The leather market is quiet but very firm. The time is at hand for a large consumptive demand, and holders, with very moderate stocks, are not disposed to sell unless at full figures. Heavy stock for the manufacture of fall goods is now inquired for, and both rough and finished leather is beginning to move in fair-sized lots.

Hemlock sole is in moderate demand, with sales in small lots at 28a34c, the outside rate for over-weights; oak is selling at a range of 35a54c. Rough upper is in fair request with sales at 30a33c for hemlock and 31a34c for oak. Rough calfskins are scarce and firm, at a range of $1 05a1 15. finished do are selling at $1 25a1 50, as to quality and weight, Pebbled calf and patent leather, 30a40c.

Boston Wool Market.

June 2.—The demand for wool continues quite active at this point, at very firm, and in some cases higher prices, and the amount of transactions is limited only by the small supply offering. The stock of desirable staple, both fleece and pulled, is reduced to a very small compass, and hence holders of good lots have the advantage. Indifferent parcels likely to be left over, are offering at low figures to close out; but there is no discount on fine, good-conditioned wools, which are disappearing from the market more rapidly than is agreeable to consumers

There has been quite an extensive movement in the better grades of pulled wool during the past week, which has nearly cleared the market. An advance of 2a3c has been realized on this description, with a strong upward tendency toward the close. Manufacturers are now running their machinery on the production of flannels, tweeds, satinets and other fall woolens, and the supply of pulled wools, which has been unusually small this season, is likely to be exhausted rather prematurely. But for the water in the mill streams this would have happened still earlier.

Sales of domestic for the week foot up some 825,000 lbs, at a range of 45a75c for fleece, and 40a70c for the various grades of pulled. Included are lots of common and fine Western fleece at 45a55c; Indiana and Michigan at 50a60c; New York and Vermont at 50a58c; Ohio at 55a65c for medium and fine; Pennsylvania and Virginia do. at 60a67c; and small lots of choice, double extra and picklock do. do. at 68a75c. The transactions in pulled have been quite large, and confined principally to the super and extra grades, at a rage of 50a60c for the former, and 60a67½c for the latter, a few very se ect parcels realizing 70a71c. This grade is now very scarce. In California, sales of 9,000 lbs common at 25c; 8,000 lbs new fleece, good and choice quality, at 35a40c ⅌ lb; also, 9,000 lbs Spring clip do., a very clean and superior article, at 40a45c. In Texas Wool, sales of 30,000 lbs at 30½, and 10,000 lbs at 30c ⅌ lb. In Canada Combing, sales of 3,000 lbs choice at 85c ⅌ lb. In foreign Wool, sales of 800 bales Cape and Mestiza at 35a42½c for the former, and 26a36c for the latter.

THE RIVER—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated four feet six inches and about at a stand.

TRADE on the Allegheny river has again become active. A rise in that stream is always attended with similar results.

ALL persons having claims against the Allegheny river packet Belle, are requested to present the same on board for payment.

CAPT. BISHOP'S new steamer Arabian is nearly completed. She is a handsome affair and admirably adapted for low water.

THE NEW STATE, Capt. Harlan, will positively leave for Cincinnati and Louisville to-morrow afternoon at four o clock. An excellent boat and efficient officers.

CAPT. JAMES SHEDDIN'S new cotton steamer Lotus is nearly ready for business. She is one of the best adapted cotton boats that have left this port for some time.

THE new steamer Arabian, Capt. Bishop, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville on Thursday. Persons going that way will be well cared for.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Leni Leoti, Capt. Hamilton. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. She leaves at noon.

CAPT. JOSEPH H. PORTER is building a side wheel passenger boat for the St. Louis trade. She will be completed by fall. Captain Joseph knows how to get a boat up as well as the next one.

THE splendid passenger steamer Camelia, Captain J. L. Lytle, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat stands a No 1 as regards speed, accommodations and attentive officers. We take pleasure in recommending boat and officers.

THE new and splendid passenger steamer "Importer," Capt. J. Noss, leaves this day positively for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has fine speed and superior accommodations. Persons going that way will be well cared for on this boat.

THE first-class passenger steamer Columbia, Capt. R. J. Porter, leaves for St. Louis and St. Paul on Tuesday. She will go through without reshipping. The Columbia is one of the best boats of her class afloat, and is in charge of careful and experienced officers, who will see that passengers have the best of attention. Mr. Clark, who presides in the office, will be found both clever and attentive.

Cairo.

CAIRO, June 2.—The following Ohio river boats passed here: Superior, Evansville and return; Silver Cloud, St. Louis, Cincinnati; Cumberland, Nashville and return. The Superior had 17 hhds of tobacco for reshipment to New Orleans, and was crowded with passengers. The Silver Cloud had a full load of corn, and tows a barge laden with the same. The Cumberland brought out 76 hhds of tobacco and 15 bbls of whisky for reshipment to New Orleans.

The Luminary passed up for St. Louis, with the following survivors of the City of Memphis disaster: Sam. Harris, second mate, leg broken; Nick Byrne, first engineer, ankle broken and the other foot crushed; Thomas Richmond, Steward, bruised and cut; Mr. Wakefield, passenger, head and arms scalded, and four of the crew severely scalded.

The following are on the Luminary unhurt: A. Clark, first clerk; Sam. Nordick, first mate; William Downing, bar keeper; William Phillips, striker, and five cabin crew and forty-five deck hands and deck passengers. The remainder of the scalded, twenty-seven in number, are at Memphis; probably three will die. The clerk of the Memphis says, the whole number lost and died since will not be over sixty-five.

The river is stationary. Steady rain this forenoon, and still cloudy. Business is fair. The Underwriter is taking on board thirty condemned cannon and 5,090 shells for St. Louis.

CONSUMPTION!

This scourge of humanity, bane of civilization, with despotic sway has insinuated itself into all classes, grades and conditions of life. Neither age, sex nor rank is exempt from its ravages. Its icy hand falls alike upon youthful innocence and hoary-headed age. Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectorant, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, darting Pains in the Side and Back, Emaciation, and a general negative condition of the whole system. It is authentically stated that one fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; there is no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies. Persons suffering from this dread disease, or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper Remedy, in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON'S Prepared Prescription for the cure of CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all THROAT and LUNG AFFECTIONS, has now been in use over ten years with the most marked success.

The remedy, prepared under Mr. Wilson's personal supervision, also a pamphlet, containing the original prescription, with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, may be obtained of

JOSEPH FLEMING,
84 MARKET STREET.

Mr. Wilson's Preparation is placed in the hands of the above agent for the convenience of Consumptive sufferers wishing the Remedy. He will furnish them the article at the regular price, $3 per package, and 30 cents extra for postage, when ordered by mail; and the patient can rely upon a pure article, properly compounded under Mr. Wilson's personal supervision at his residence, No. 165 South Second street, Williamsburgh, N. Y.

Each package will bear his written signature across the end of the box. For pamphlet containing the original Prescription, the Prepared Remedy, or more full particulars, address or call on the above agent, or

SPERM LUBRICATOR.
Important Invention
Something which our Manufacturers have long desired.
A SUBSTITUTE FOR
Lard Oil,
And Sold for $30 per barrel less.
Read

The following recommendations from some of our well known manufacturers. It is pronounced by all equal to Lard Oil:

PITTSBURGH, November 16th 1865.—We are using the "Sperm Lubricator," manufactured by Messrs. Buffum, Kehew & Co., in cutting screws and on our machinery, and find it equal to lard oil in every respect. We use no other oil.
DAVIS & PHILLIPS,
110 Water and 104 Front streets.

PEARL FLOUR MILLS, Allegheny City, November 10th, 1865.—MESSRS. BUFFUM, KEHEW & CO., 22 Market street—Gents: I have been using your Sperm Lubricator for the past year or more, and can recommend it as being equal to the best No. 1 Lard Oil. I use your oil for the cylinder, for burning, and in fact for everything that oil is required for about the Mill. I also used it on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and all the engineers thought with me that it was the best oil they had ever tried.
Yours, respectfully, NATHAN PETTYS,
Engineer at Pearl Mills—R. T. Kennedy & Co.

CONTINENTAL MACHINE WORKS, Allegheny City, November 17th, 1865.—We are now using, and have been, for the past year, the "Sperm Lubricator," an oil manufactured by Messrs. Buffum, Kehew & Co., Pittsburgh, on engine and machinery, screw cutting, chasing, and on pulleys, fan, running 2,200 revolutions per minute, and find it equal in every respect to the best No. 1 Lard Oil. We do not hesitate to recommend the oil as the best we have ever used, being more durable than any we have heretofore tested.
JENNINGS & CO.

We also refer by special permission to Messrs. Morehead & Co., Soho Iron Works, and Messrs. Craig Bros., Gas and Steam Pipe Fitters.

The Sperm Lubricator is manufactured only by us.
